Congo Rebels March On Capital

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo Republic (UPI)—Mutinous Congolese troops attacked their Bengian officers in three army camps today, loosed a reign of terror against Europeans and marched on the capital in defiance of Premier Patrice Lumumba.

At Hardy Camp, Thysville, about 124 miles south of Leopoldville, European officers gathered their wives and children in blockhouses fortified in advance with weapons and food.

In Leopoldville, Europeans were beaten with fists and buckled army belts. One, a woman, and a man who went to her assistance, were rescued by police.

A third mutiny was reported at Kalina.

Lumumba, whose own home was pillaged by thieves, called on Belgian paratroopers to patrol Leopoldville streets and took off by helicopter in an effort to turn back the well-armed Hardy Camp mutineers who were reported advancing by truck and car less than 50 miles from Leopoldville.

The mutineers already had persuaded one army column sent to turn them back to join them instead, and Lumumba's action in calling on the Belgian praratroopers indicated he was not sure of others still taking his orders.

An armored column, so far still loyal to Lumumba, was en route for another attempt at turning back the Hardy Camp marchers.

The mutineers threatened the security if not the existence of the Congo Republic, which achieved its independence only six days ago to become, along with Somalia, the newest of the African republics.

Today's violence was a climax to disorders which have been a daily occurence in the Congo for many weeks, partly as result of bitter political and tribal rivalries. Congo troops were reported demanding better living conditions. (See story on page 2.)

WORK STARTS ON SAN ANSELMO FIREHOUSE

Mayor William Franchini (left), contractor Joseph R. Filippo and Fire Chief Nello Marcucci look over plans for second San Anselmo firehouse on Butterfield Road at Arroyo Avenue, as laborer Hank Heidelman starts work in creek bed which firehouse will straddle. The long-delayed building construction got started today and should be completed in six months, according to Filippo. San Anselmo financed the firehouse through a lease-option arrangement by which it is being put up by the non-profit San Anselmo Fire Station Building Co. and leased back to the city.

Belvedere Rejects Tidelands Petition

Both opponents and proponents of the controversial proposal to construct "homes on pilings" on Belvedere's western tidelands went home disappointed from last night's Belvedere City Council meeting.

The council, in a double-header play, threw out the iniative petition to rezone the tidelands for recreation and wound up in a tie vote on an amendment to the subdivision ordinance to allow construction of homes of inundated land.

City Attorney William H. MacKay said: "The city council cannot adopt an amendment to the zoning ordinance without its being initiated by the Belvedere Planning Commission . . . The planning commission must recommend the amendment at a public meeting by a majority vote and then put it to the city council."

The initiative petition, signed by 205 Belvedere residents, was submitted to the city council for the first time last night.

In a statement to the Independent-Journal today, Harold H. Horne ,president of the Belvedere Property Owners Assn., said, "We are determined that this issue come to a vote of the people and we will do what we have to do to bring it to a vote." He said a decision on whether a new petition will be circulated will be forthcoming.

The subdivision ordinance amendment, which would allow exceptions to the ordinances outlawing home construction on inundated land, would have given the planning commission the prerogative of requiring fill on all or less than all of each lot.

Mayor Robert P. Watkins and Councilman H. Nordmaark Williams voted against the amendment. Councilmen Ida M. Scott and John H. Flint voted for it. Councilman E. G. (Ned) Weed was absent.

Developers' attorney Morse Erskine jumped to his feet and said: "We are entitled to a full council vote . . . couldn't we postpone the vote until five members are here?"

He and the council agreed that the developers would appeal the ruling by MacKay that "building on dangerous or inundated land is illegal."

Seats were at a premium in the crowded Belvedere Community Hall, when the 60 attendees heard Erskine's plea. "We own the property . . . you cannot take it away from us without paying and the construction of homes on pilings is based on sound principle." He termed the initiative petition "an outrageous proposition and the only excuse for this action by decent people is prejudice against the land company . . . people who signed this did not

Fire Destroys Pastureland At Nicasio

A grass fire broke out on the Ed Gallagher ranch in Nicasio yesterday and destroyed six acres of pasture and about 45 acres of brush before it was put out by the Marin County Fire Department.

Ed Gallagher was loading hay along with Richard and John Gallagher in a field about 2:30 p.m. when the fire started in the pasture a half mile from them on the east side of the Point Reyes Station Road.

BLAZE SPREAD

They reported the fire. By the time the fire truck arrived, the blaze had spread over more than an acre.

The fire, pushed by a southwest wind, moved from the road east up Rock Road. It was fought by six truck crews under direction of Asst. Chief Louis Bloom.

County dispatcher Harry Steinburg said the fire was reported to have been started by the backfire of a truck's muffler.

NEAR PASTURE

A witness said that a feed truck muffler had been backfiring along the road near the pasture minutes before the fire started.

The county fire department fought a number of other grass fires yesterday afternoon.

In Marinwood, about one-sixth of an acre was burned on a vacant lot behind Lee Brothers Market. It was reportedly caused by children.

A grass fire covered a half an acre at San Pedro Point off

COUNCIL ACTION ASKED

Teeners Spoiling Cascade Area, Residents Claim

Nineteen residents of Mill Valley's Cascade area charge in a letter to the city council that teen-agers have made their neighborhood a place of peril.

The letter, to be read at tonight's Mill Valley City Council meeting, asks for action — specifically, closer policing.

"In consideration of the taxes paid by each resident of this area, the return in services from the City of Mill Valley is pitifully meager," the letter contends.

Copies of the epistle, signed by 19 residents of Cascade Drive and Lovell Avenue, have been sent the Mill Valley police and fire chiefs.

It declares:

"A student of Tamalpais High School recently revealed that the word 'Cascade' is referred to jokingly by local adolescents who recognize this area as a refuge in which they can drink, drive fast and 'make out' without fear of detection or restriction."

Particularly hazardous, the letter claims, is widespread smoking by youngsters in the area, although there are "tinderbox conditions in Cascade Canyon during the summer and fall." Cigarette butts and matches "are tossed from cars and left smouldering in the dry undergrowth," the letter claims.

"The residents . . . realize that they urgently need—and certainly deserve—consistent and intelligent police protection," it says. "This is a well-considered, widely discussed and long-overdue request for help in solving a problem that could have tragic and far-reaching consequences."

One resident, says the letter, was told by a police officer that "police don't like to patrol this road because the ruts and rocks are too hard on the tires and shock absorbers."

Police are not enforcing the no-swimming rule at Cascade Reservoir, recently taken over by the city from the Marin Municipal Water District, the letter alleges.

Last fall a woman resident a few hundred yards from the dam asked two teen-age boys to put out their cigarettes before throwing them into the brush, the letter goes on. "One of the boys responded by flicking his cigarette at the woman and telling her to 'Shut up or

IKE SIGNS BILL ON SUGAR, CUTS CUBA'S QUOTA

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower today signed the sugar bill and immediately slashed 700,000 short tons from the Cuban sugar quota for this year.

The chief executive acted at 3:25 p.m., signing legislation empowering him to cut Cuba's share of the United States sugar market or freeze it altogether.

Cutting the quota is expected to bring retaliatory confiscation by Cuba of American-owned sugar mills.

Supervisors Open Sessions On County Assessments

Seven county assessments were lowered through agreement on charges recommended by the assessor's office during this morning's first session of the Marin County Board of Supervisors sitting as a board of equalization.

Four cases in which agreement could not be reached were continued to Friday for further study.

County Clerk George S. Jones had a total of 25 applications for equalization by noon today. The application period runs from yesterday morning to 5 p.m. July 15.

Both Chairman Walter R. Castro and Assessor Bert W. Broemmel said that through advance review procedures started last year, the work has been lightened and expedited.

"I'm not going to forecast because just as I said things looked good a flood might pour in," said Broemmel, "but we can see that many appeals were fended off by the series of review hearings during April, May and June, especially in the appraisal areas."

The board did not meet this afternoon. Further hearings will be held tomorrow and Friday mornings. Hearings are to continue through July 18, with no present prospect that night meetings will be required.

Marin City Bids Due On Monday

Bids will be opened at 2:30 p.m. Monday at the Marin City Lounge for site improvements of the first unit of the Marin City Redevelopment area.

Bert Klahn, executive director of the county redevelopment agency, said the work is estimated to exceed 25 million dollars.

Navy Blimp Goes Down In Atlantic

Big Airship Crashes While Hunting Boat

COMBINED AP & UPI

LAKEHURST, N.J.—One of the Navy's largest blimps crashed in the Atlantic Ocean off the central New Jersey coast today. It carried a crew of 21. The Navy said the aircraft carrier Essex and several fishing boats rescued six or seven survivors.

The blimp had been taking part in a sea and air search for a racing yacht missing on a cruise from Bermuda. Vessels that had been participating in the hunt for the racer Vat 69 rushed to the blimp's assistance.

NEAR LIGHTSHIP

A spokesman at the naval air station here said the blimp was in the water about eight miles from the Barnegat Lightship.

Two helicopters were dispatched to the scene from here.

The blimp was a ZPG3W Reliance type, one of four airships that are the largest lighter-than-air craft in the world.

Navy helicopters and aircraft and Coast Guard vessels that had been searching for the Vat 69 turned immediately to the blimp's aid.

SEA SEARCH

The sea search originally was launched for two yachts missing after the Newport-Bermuda yacht race.

One of them, the 35-foot ketch Carastee, radioed that it was all right and was merely running late on its return trip to New York.

The other missing yacht, which left Bermuda June 29, was owned by Dr. Maxwell Y. Simkin, a Great Neck, N.Y., dentist.

Five Navy planes and the blimp, the Coast Guard cutter Agassiz and two Coast Guard planes went out this morning to search 20,000 square miles of the Atlantic from Cape Cod, Mass., to Norfolk Va., for the Vat 69.

Britain's Bevan Dies; Labor Party Official

LONDON (AP) — Aneurin Bevan, deputy leader of Britain's Labor Party and one of the great selfmade men of British public life, died today. He was 62.

Bevan underwent a major abdominal operation last Dec. 29 in a London hospital and had been confined in his rural home since leaving the hospital Feb. 14.

Although the nature of his ailment has not been disclosed officially it was generally believed to have been cancer.

WIFE AT SIDE

With Bevan at the end was his wife, Jennie Lee, a prominent Labor Party figure herself and a member of Parliament.

Bevan, a fighting Socialist with a fiery tongue, stirred up revolt and controversy within his own Labor Party for years and delighted in tweaking Uncle Sam's nose.

He was the party's spokesman on foreign affairs, and had Labor won the last election he would have been foreign secretary.

In recent years, however, he underwent a subtle change as the loyal No. 2 man to the moderate, party leader Hugh Gaitskell.

IGNORES CHANCE

When the party went down to defeat again in last October's elections he ignored the opportunity again to lead a militant revolt of the leftwingers for a thorough overhauling of the party's leadership and policies.

But the bouncing Welshman never retracted his advocacy of complete socialism for Britain,

Salesman Hurt In Traffic Accident Dies

A San Francisco salesman, injured in a San Rafael traffic accident last Thursday night, died yesterday at San Rafael General Hospital.

Injuries suffered in the crash were a contributory cause of the death of the victim, John Kenneth Toyser, 43, reported Deputy Coroner Harry M. Williams after an autopsy today.

CAR PASSENGER

Toyser was a passenger in a car driven by Elizabeth Tuck Stone, 54, of San Francisco. She was charged with felony drunken driving after her car glanced off a tree on Mission Avenue and crashed with a car driven by John Harry Helms of 10 Glenside Street, San Rafael.

Williams said an autopsy by Dr. Calvin Plumhof showed Toyser's death resulted from double bronchopneumonia, cirrhosis of the liver and internal injuries.

Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa said he was considering today whether to add manslaughter to the drunken driving charge against Mrs. Stone.

13th VICTIM

Toyser was the 13th victim of Marin County traffic this year, and the third to die of traffic accidents in San Rafael.

Marin's last two traffic fatalities were on June 18. Last year up to this time eight persons had died as a result of auto accidents in Marin, including two in San Rafael accidents. The eighth death in 1959 also had occurred on June 18.

Toyser, who lived at the same address as Mrs. Stone, is survived by a sister, Gloria Kumner of Chicago. Funeral arrangements are pending at Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

Conservation Unit To Meet On Billboard

The Marin County Conservation League is "sure to pass a resolution tonight" opposing a San Rafael Chamber of Commerce proposal to place a big lighted billboard on Highway 101 near Ignacio, Mrs. Norman B. Livermore, league president, said today.

"We've been fighting billboards for 25 years," Mrs. Livermore declared. "I can't speak for the league, but I'm sure they will pass a resolution against it," she said.

The league will meet at Mrs. Livermore's house in Ross.

She said a large crowd of members also will attend the Marin County Planning Commission hearing on the proposal next Monday.

Span Directors Decrease Commute Book Price $1

Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge District today voted to reduce the price of commutation books from $9 to $8 per 52-trip book.

The district's finance committee voted unanimously to recommend the reduction to the bridge board at its Friday meeting, to be effective Sept. 1. Eight of the 14 board members were present at the finance committee meeting and voted unanimously for the cut.

The reduction came as result of a request by Marin director Leland Murphy more than a year ago. He was told at that time to take up the proposal at budget time.

The new price per book will give commuters a crossing at 15.385 cents as compared to 17.3 cents they are now paying.

General manager James Adam said this will mean about $100,000 per year reduction in revenue. He said this would be more than offset by normal increase in traffic.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Attack Gang Held

LEOMINSTER, Mass. (UPI) — Thirteen suspects in the gang rape of a 19-year-old girl were held in total bail of $670,000 today for further action by the grand jury or juvenile authorities.

A crowd of 500 outside the courtroom was met by more than 100 police armed with riot guns and fire hoses to prevent any mob action. Last Friday, at the opening hearing, a crowd of 1,500 shouted "lynch them," as the gang was led from the courthouse.

Disarm Effort

LONDON (UPI) — The Western powers are working on a joint declaration calling for a new global disarmament effort to secure "a peaceful world of free and open societies," diplomatic sources disclosed today.

They said the United States, Britain, France, Canada and Italy are preparing the declaration to break the deadlock caused by Soviet Russia's walkout at the Geneva disarmament conference.

Gravel Posts Bail

WEST LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Camille F. Gravel, national Democratic committeeman from Louisiana, yesterday refused to pay a $21 fine to settle a drunk charge and instead posted $21 bail and demanded a trial by jury.

"To pay the fine would be an admission of guilt and I am not guilty," declared the 45-year-old Gravel. He was arrested as a plain drunk Friday as he stepped from an airliner at international airport.

Chamber Hits Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Chamber of Commerce today came out against a House-approved health care program for the aged and every other proposal before Congress for helping old folks pay their medical bills.

The chamber took the stand in a statement filed with the Senate Finance Committee, which is considering the House measure and about a half dozen other plans.

Nikita 'Too Tired'

VILLACH, Austria (UPI)—Austrian officials said today Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev decided to cut short his tour of the provinces and return to Vienna a day early because he is "too tired."

The Soviet leader appeared to be bursting with energy yesterday, although the rest of his entourage, including his wife, showed fatigue.

Canada Marshall Killed

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Air Vice Marshal Keith L. B. Hodson, 44, deputy chief of operations at North American Air Defense Command, was killed yesterday parachuting from a disabled T-33 jet trainer. He was one of Canada's top airmen. His rank was equivalent to a major general.

Midget Sub Found

HONOLULU (AP) — The Navy is investigating a Japanese midget submarine, believed to have been part of the force that attacked Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941. Navy divers accidentally discovered the submarine June 13, about a mile outside the harbor.

Nixon Snubs Nazis

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon has repudiated the support of George Lincoln Rockwell, the head of the American Nazi party, "and the evil he represents."

Nixon, the probable Republican presidential nominee, took the stand in a telegram yesterday to Bernard Abrams, national commander of the Jewish War Veterans. Abrams had told Nixon that Rockwell was supporting him for the White House.

Radium Stolen

HOBBS, N.M. (UPI) — The thief who stole a 200-pound lead capsule from the back of a truck may not realize it, but in the wrong hands it can become a radioactive killer.

Inside the hunk of lead is 500 millicuries of radium, worth about $10,000. It is described as "extremely dangerous."

It turned up missing from a truck which was delivering it to Hobbs for Frontier Perforators of Odessa, Tex., which uses it in oil exploration to determine the porosity of the earth.

Rail Parley

CHICAGO (UPI) — The nation's railroads and four unions of on-train employes switched work rules negotiations onto the main track today after sidetracking them for eight months while wage talks had the right-of-way.

Carrier bargainers met with chiefs of the major operating brotherhoods for a preliminary discussion of the industry's demands for major rules revisions to eliminate what the railroads say is more than $500 million a year in "featherbedding waste."

Congo Troops Want White Leader Ousted

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (AP)—About 200 soldiers of the Congo army demonstrated for several hours today in front of the infant African nation's Parliament building, demanding removal of all their white Belgian officers.

Other soldiers mutinied last night in Thysville, 75 miles southwest of the capital, and imprisoned their white officers.

The demonstrators in Leopoldville at one point roughed up the army's Belgian commander, Gen. Emile Janssen, and seized his pistol.

They finally marched back to their barracks after speeches by Prime Minister Patrice Lumumba and other government ministers.

The demonstration was confined largely to the Parliament building and the barracks.

FINAL ROAD TOLL REACHES RECORD OF 440

CHICAGO (AP) — A record 440 deaths were reported on the nation's highways during the three-day Fourth of July holiday.

The final toll far exceeds the previous mark for a three-day Independence Day celebration—407 recorded in 1955.

Accidental deaths during the period—6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday—also included 34 in boating accidents, 123 drownings and 110 from other causes for an over-all total of 707.

Fire Perils Home

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A stubborn brush fire threatened expensive homes in the Hollywood Hills before it was brought under control yesterday.

The 40-acre fire burned within a few feet of several homes. Flames as high as 30 feet were fought by nearly 150 firemen.

Church Sect Holes Up For 'Atom Attack'

BENSON, Ariz. (AP)—Members of a small religious sect apparently are barricaded in their sealed homes and church awaiting an atomic attack from which they expect to be the only survivors, a sheriff's officer reports.

Known as the Full Gospel Assembly, the group is believed to include about 20 families. Their homes and churches are close together on the outskirts of this small town.

"It's like a tomb down there," Deputy Sheriff Ray Coffey said Tuesday night. "There isn't a soul around, not even a dog. They don't answer their telephones or their doors.

"In the past couple of weeks they've bought at least $30,000 to $50,000 of food.

"From what I gather, they figure they'll be the only ones left after this attack."

Report Amelia Earhart Was Executed Sifted

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An Air Force officer says security officers are evaluating what he believes to be conclusive evidence that the Japanese executed aviatrix Amelia Earhart.

Miss Earhart and navigator Fred Noonan disappeared in July 1937 while crossing the Pacific on a projected round-the-world flight.

Capt. Paul Briand Jr. said yesterday that an Air Force officer has photographic evidence and affidavits from 72 eyewitnesses to the capture and execution of Miss Earhart and Noonan.

And, said Briand, Capt. Joseph Gervais wrote him he had found, on the prewar Japanese mandate island of Saipan, "the original and only burial site of Amelia Earhart and Fred Noonan."

Gervais' investigation was not an official Air Force inquiry. It was the second time in five days that unofficial investigators have claimed finding evidence that the Japanese killed the U.S. fliers.

Briand is author of a book titled "Daughter of the Sky" in which he proposes a theory that the Americans landed far off course at Saipan and were executed to keep them from telling the world that the Japanese were secretly fortifying the island.

But in Tokyo a former imperial navy captain denied that such an execution occurred.

Zenshiro Hoshina was, in 1937, chief of the section of the Naval Affairs Bureau handling executions.

"I absolutely deny it," he told newsmen who told him of Briand's report. "No such execution could have taken place without my knowledge and approval."

Japanese authorities earlier had denied a report publicized last Friday that Miss Earhart's plane had crashed off Saipan and that she and Noonan had been reportedly executed.

That report came from an investigation by a team of newsmen from the Columbia Broadcasting System and the San Mateo Times. They recovered a generator from a plane they believed to be Miss Earhart's Lockheed-built craft.

Aircraft technicians still are studying the device to determine if it could have been from her plane.

Russ Start New Rocket Test Series

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviets have started their new series of long-range rocket tests to pave the way for attempts at Mars, Venus or putting a man into space.

The first of the new rockets was fired into the central Pacific yesterday, traveling 8,000 miles "in exact accordance with the pre-set program," the Soviets said.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the shot "marks the beginning of the testing of new types of powerful, multi-stage carrier rockets for space exploration." It made no mention of the rockets' military potential as an intercontinental carrier for nuclear weapons.

The final stage of the rocket —a dummy of the instrument or man-carrying chamber that would be used in a space probe — "reached the water surface in close proximity to the target," Tass said.

The range claimed was 850 miles more than that reported for the rocket the Soviets test-fired in January.

FORMER RHEE AIDES APPEAR IN COURT

Three cabinet members from the former government of Syngman Rhee appear in a Seoul court handcuffed and roped together, wearing the traditional court white robes, symbol of contrition in Korea. They are (from left) Choi In-Kyu, former home minister; Choi Jae-Yoo, former minister of education; and Sohn Chung-Whan, former health and social minister. In-Kyu, along with Choi Byung Whan, former head of provincial affairs; Lee Sung Woo, vice home minister, and Lee Kang Hak, former police director, are charged with violating the national security law, conviction of which carries possible death penalty.

Mill Valleyan To Head County School Board

Robert G. Randolph of Mill Valley was elected president of the Marin County Board of Education last night. He succeeds Mrs. Alce Ann Rust of Kentfield.

Randolph, vice president last year, was elected unanimously. In accepting, he congratulated Mrs. Rust on "a wonderful year" as president.

Mrs. Adele S. Alpers of San Rafael was named vice president, by 5-to-0 vote. Two members, OB Cavanaugh of Stinson Beach and Howard Chadd of Sausalito, abstained from voting.

The newly organized board whipped through a lengthy agenda. It:

1. Authorized advertising for bids for two new 35-passenger school busses for the handicapped children's school program, one to replace an old diesel bus, the other an addition.

2. Approved renaming the school at juvenile hall to Loma Alta School, using the name of a school which formerly operated in Lucas Valley.

3. Granted a year's leave of absence to william Nachtman, who has been teaching a special class at E Street School in San Rafael, to accept a $2,500 U.S. Office of Education fellowship at Colorado State College.

4. Approved a two-month leave for Norman McCollum, principal of the San Quentin adult education program, for a European tour, and named Daryl Hopkins of the county staff to act as principal of the prison summer school.

5. Approved new membership in the California School Boards Assn. with dues increased from $50 to $75.

6. Approved a $2,500 loan to Dixie School District pending receipt by the district of state funds.

7. Approved appointment of the following: Mrs. Patricia Cheney of Mill Valley as a special teacher for a hard of hearing class; Robert C. Dwyer of San Francisco as a teacher of a special class for the mentally retarded, replacing Nachtman; Mrs. Edith Bourne of San Anselmo, as a part-time speech correctionist; Morrison Gardner of San Francisco, as a guidance consultant in charge of welfare and attendance in addition to consultation with small school districts; Alvin B. Carr of San Francisco as a guidance consultant for the Dixie School District and other, smaller, districts.

Tax Increase To Start In Small Districts

Tax rate of Marin school districts with less than 900 students in attendance daily will be increased about 4 cents this year to help pay the cost of school for mentally retarded children.

The county board of education, acting in conformity with a law passed by the 1959 legislature, last night approved a $10,000 budget to provide schooling for the approximately 20 youngsters from the small school district during the coming year.

Under the new law, the county must assess the districts enough of a tax rate to provide that amount of money. The amount, estimated by Rudolph S. Kupfer, assistant superintendent, to be 4 cents, will be added to the tax rate for these small districts.

Without naming all the districts involved, Kupfer said these would be included: Ross, West Marin, Fairfax, San Quentin, Stinson Beach, Bolinas, Laguna Joint and other small districts.

Mail Box Riddled

Joseph Nerviani of Joe's Landing in Santa Venetia reported last night that someone had shot his mailbox full of holes. Sheriff's Deputy Douglas Gledhill was sent to investigate.

Council To Hear Request For Sign

James Stockman, proprietor of the Edgewater Inn, will appear before the Larkspur City Council tonight to make another appeal for a sign on Highway 101 advertising his premises.

Last month, the council asked Stockman not to construct the sign.

Also scheduled for the 8 o'clock city council meeting is a public hearing on rezoning the Garden Spot Nursery on Magnolia Avenue from commercial to residential.

Fairfax Holds To Recreation Fund Figure

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission last night voted to operate its summer recreation programs within the $900 budget approved by the city council.

The program will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. between July 25 and Sept. 2. Thomas Kelly, assistant principal of Fairfax Central School, and Mrs. Jean Hancock were named directors.

The program in the pavilion area of Fairfax Park will be open every day under direction of one of the two directors. Field trips will be supervised by one director and a part-time assistant.

The citizens committee working on plans for a proposed tennis court as a memorial to late Police Chief Andy J. Peri reported about $1,100 has been subscribed to date.

A public dance to raise funds may be held this Fall under sponsorship of the Marin County Peace Officers Assn., it was reported.

A committee was named to prepare a master plan for park improvement to be submitted to the council. Members are William Brown, chairman; Frank L. Lawrence and Ralph E. Ford.

Lawrence F. Walsh Jr., reported that 350 youngsters will attend the Giants-Philadelphia game July 21 on a Little League-sponsored trip. More details on the trip will be available next week, he said.

Dining Room Expansions Approved

Two Marinwood home owners finally won permission to build dining rooms yesterday.

Specifically, they gained permission from the Marin County Board of Supervisors to build the rooms to dimensions which they considered minimum size, entailing need for reduction of one foot and 18 inches respectively, in side setbacks of their homes.

These were previously denied by the planning commission, which considered the cases possible precedents which might lead to a flood of similar requests by home owners disillusioned as to the merits of "dining counters" in Marinwood houses.

The supervisors decided special circumstances should permit Edward P. Lindell to build a dining room within five feet of the property line and Robert A. Miller to construct one within four and one-half feet of the line. The action was taken on motion of Chairman Walter R. Castro, who had looked at the homes in question.

In other planning matters, the board confirmed Planning Commission approval of a tentative map of Tara Hill, involving amendment of the Tiburon Master Plan regarding Ranch Road.

Peter Macgowan, chairman of the Tiburon Coordinating Council, said a small caucus of Rolling Hills property owners had voiced no objection to changes contemplated in the road.

The board set for 2 p.m. July 19 a hearing on Samuel R. Neider's petition to reclassify from residential to commercial three acres south of Belvedere Drive in the Alto area, where it is planned to locate a shopping center.

Academy Cadets Fly Over Novato

There's a new sound in the skies above Novato, and a new look.

F-102 jets, delta-winged two-place fighter planes, are taking off and landing at Hamilton Air Force Base as they take Air Force Academy cadets for rides.

The Base's F-101 complement of two-place fighters has been supplemented by two-place 102s from Travis Air Force Base. Some 200 cadets will fly from Hamilton, of the 640 who will visit the base in two groups through July 17. The remainder of the cadets will have jet rides at other Air Force bases to be visited this summer.

BUT BUCHANAN IS OUT

Duplexes, 39 Homes Passed In Sausalito

Philip Karp, San Francisco builder and developer, got the go-ahead from the Sausalito City Council last night to build nine duplexes and 39 homes.

Construction is to be in the Buena Vista Heights Subdivision surrounding Bayside School.

Karp can go ahead, the council said, providing he paves a section of Buchanan Street which leads into the subdivision. This had been agreed to by former owner Morden Bunn of San Francisco. The council directed Karp to put in the streets within 60 days after the first unit is occupied.

The developer said that, if he obtains the whole half-circle of property, he will build 160 buildings. He said he is prepared to start building on nine lots immediately.

Councilman Michael Harris asked "one small favor" of Karp: changing the name of Buchanan Street.

Harris said Buchanan was "one of the most unsuccessful presidents we ver had." There should be no complaints, he added since Buchanan left no descendents.

Someone suggested the street might be named for Sen. Lyndon Johnson or for Adlai Stevenson. Karp said; "or it might be called Karp."

Tax Reduction Expected In Reed District

Reed Union School District residents can expect a cut in their school tax rate next fall—but by how much, can't yet be determined.

District trustees last night adopted an operating budget of $570,362 for fiscal 1960-61. Chairman Richard J. MacLaury said this is expected to call for a basic tax rate of $1.89 per $100 assessed valuation—down 16 cents from that levied last year.

However, some of the override taxes will rise to cancel out part of the saving. MacLaury said the community services tax will remain at five cents. But the amount levied for bond redemption and state debt retirement will rise from 36 cents to perhaps as much as 40 cents. Also there will be an increase of "maybe two cents" in the eight-cent levy for teacher retirement, he said.

The over-ride taxes are to meet fixed costs (except for the community services portion) which are controlled by state law.

Last year's budget was $518,908. The increase was attributed to higher enrollment, employment of an additional half-time music teacher, additional eighth grade teacher, establishment of a materials center with one employee, and an increase in teachers salaries.

MacLaury was re-elected chairman of the trustees. Former clerk David D. Ring was elected vice chairman and Erwin C. Farley was elected clerk.

Coyote Creek Flood Control Survey Passed

Congress authorized a flood control survey of Mill Valley's Coyote Creek before it recessed Sunday, Rep. Clement W. Miller (D-Corte Madera) reported yesterday.

Miller is the author of a bill to authorize the Army Corps of Engineers to study Coyote Creek and other Marin County streams flowing into Richardson Bay. This bill was incorporated in the omnibus flood control bill passed by the House and Senate last weekend and sent to the president.

The survey would include Arroyo Corte Madera del Presidio and the Alto area as well as Coyote Creek in Tamalpais Valley. Purpose would be to detemine if a basin-wide all-federal flood control project would be feasible and economically justified.

Miller said the survey authorized by the bill is not intended as a substitute for previously proposed joint federal-county flood protection projects on the two streams.

"Rather," he said, "this is designed as a 'safety net' should the joint projects fall through for any reason.

The joint Coyote Creek project would require a local cash contribution of $127,000 toward a $863,000 project.

Marin County officials balked at this $127,000 figure when terms for financing a joint project were announced by the Corps of Engineers early this year. Earlier estimates had been lower.

The federal money for a joint project has been available and construction could begin this year.

It will take from three to five years for an all-federal project to get to the construction stage. Some 20 authorization and appropriation steps must be taken — in the Corps of Engineers, Congress and Budget Bureau.

Sausalito Tries To Boost Census

The Sausalito City Council last night explored more ways to try to bring up the tally of the city's census figure.

City Manager Charles A. Brown was asked by the council to put up signup petitions in churches for those people who may not have been counted. He was also asked to look into doing a special census, with paid help, of certain blocks to check the effectiveness of the regular census.

Services Areas Budgets Passed By Supervisors

Approval was given to four Marin County special district budgets and one was held over by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

Loma Verde County Services Area's budget for fiscal 1960-61 was approved at $6,391.40. This indicated a drastic tax rate increase, with next year's rate estimated at 29 cents per $100 assessed valuation as compared with 19 cents for the current fiscal year.

Marinwood Community Services District's budget totaled $62,047.41. This is expected to call for a tax rate of $1 per $100 assessed valuation, the legal limit. The community services district replaces the former Marinwood County Services Area, which levied a 95-cent tax for 1959-60.

Budget of Flood Control Zone No. 1, Novato, was approved at $18,938.21, expected to be financed from the present 6-cent tax rate.

A drop in requirements was shown for Flood Control Zone No. 4, Bel Aire, its total requirements of $3,700 being estimated to call for only a 10-cent tax as compared with 17 cents levied for '59-'60.

The auditor's office entered no tax rate for fiscal 1960-61 for Richardson Bay Flood Control Zone, following a 1959-60 rate of 2 cents. Supervisor William D. Fusselman noted that plans are presently uncertain and some money may be required.

Mrs. Vera L. Schultz, in whose district Richardson Bay lies, had been called away from the meeting. The supervisors decided that in view of the question on federal participation in Richardson Bay flood control projects, decision on this budget should be deferred until she is present.

Novato Council Delays Center Street Action

Opening of Novato's Center Street to two-way traffic was postponed by the Novato City Council last night to await resident reaction.

The proposal will come up at the next council meeting at 8 p.m. next Tuesday at the city hall.

The street, narrow, busy, with deep ditches on either side, was made one-way for the safety of school children walking along it.

Councilmen last week voted 3-2 to restore it to two-way status. Only one protest had been heard from residents since last week, council members agreed. However, the four councilmen present, if following last week's voting lines, would have been deadlocked on the issue. Councilman Everett Pozzi, absent last night, voted for two-way street, with Charles R. Johnson and M. E. (Babe) Silva. Opposing it were Councilman John Angeloni and Mayor Wayne Womack.

The council, after long discussion, agreed to introduction of a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. franchise agreement with the city. Final reading is scheduled for next Tuesday's council meeting.

The point of long and amicable discussion between city and P.G.&E. representatives was whether the company would be required to pay for any street damage resulting from possible laying of underground electric lines, and who would determine costs.

City Atty. Clark M. Palmer and company representatives were to huddle during the week to reach a legally satisfactory agreement.

In other business, the Novato council:

1. Agreed to hold the next budget session some time after next Tuesday's council session.
2. Turned down a request from the Novato High School Parents Club that the city pay for assigning a policeman to a club-sponsored dance July 9 and to future dances. The three councilmen remaining, Angeloni having left earlier, agreed it might set a precedent in which many social functions would have to be policed at city cost.
3. Paid June bills totalling $2,305.
4. Authorized purchase of a duplicating machine at $225 to $250.
5. Put over to the next meeting decision on whether to join the Assn. of Bay Area Governments, described as a "forum" for discussion of area proposals such as transit, air pollution and bridge authority. Cost to the city for membership would be about $138.

County Planners Asked Pointers In Mapping Novato Streets, Growth

Marin county planners will be asked to come up with pointers on Novato street planning and growth in the business area within two weeks.

The discussion with city representatives will be the beginning of a proposed revision of the master plan for Novato and the first step in gathering data on the pros and cons of the proposed eight-lane freeway route through the city.

Planning director Mary Summers will be asked to present facts and figures on the latest surveys of traffic and on probable construction and population, in addition to explaining the present North Marin master plant data.

Novato city council members were in agreement last night that the county figures and suggestions would be only a beginning and that final decisions would be made by the city planning commission and council with the aid of the chamber of commerce and citizens.

Councilmen at last night's meeting heard a letter from State Sen. John F. McCarthy to California director of public works, strongly urging further detailed study of a city-proposed freeway route which would bypass Novato to the east. The state is urging a route following the present Highway 101, using dirt fill overpass through a portion of the city.

Eisenhower Vows Guard Against Subs

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said the United States will act as it sees fit —if necessary—to protect its interests if Russia establishes a submarine base in Cuba.

He said, however, he does not regard the setting up of a Soviet submarine base as a likelihood, but such a thing is a possibility.

Eisenhower was asked at his news conference whether he agrees with a statement by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) that the United States might look for the establishment of such a base.

The president said he was not going to make any guesses about such a possibility. Such things are always possible in this world, he said, but he doesn't see much likelihood.

As to what the United States might do in such an event, Eisenhower drew attention to the Caracas resolution for mutual defense of the Western Hemisphere, and to the machinery of the Organization of American States.

Eisenhower said the OAS would no doubt come into play but that in its own interest this country might have to act as it saw fit.

Ike Rejects Rocky's Arms Weakness Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today rejected New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's contention that America's military strength has deteriorated.

At a news conference, the President also accused Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev of very crude attempts to interfere in this country's presidential campaign.

Eisenhower voiced confidence that neither Democrats nor the Republicans will find the Kremlin leader's advice of any value.

As for Rockefeller, Eisenhower was reminded that the Republican governor has been critical of the administration in the economic as well as military fields, and has contended that U. S. military strength has declined while Russia's has increased.

The president commented that since 1953 he has sent eight budgets to Congress. Five, he said were cut by Congress and three increased— in each case in election years.

The president said that by and large the Democratic-controlled Congresses have agreed with his Republican administration on military spending.

In this news conference, his first in eight weeks, Eisenhower dealt also with these other matters:

CUBA — The president indicated he would act later in the day or tomorrow on a bill giving him discretion to reduce shipments of Cuban sugar to the United States.

He gave no indication of whether he would cut Cuban quotas immediately after signing the bill.

BUDGET — Eisenhower declared it will be a miracle if the four-billion-dollar budget surplus which he estimated for the fiscal year which started July 1 is now realized.

Prospects for a surplus of that size have been dashed, the President said, by the failure of Congress to meet his request for higher taxes on gasoline and for an increase in postal rates.

He also mentioned the 700-million-dollar cost of the new federal pay increase—put into effect over his veto — as another factor which will reduce the surplus the administration had forecast in January.

ECONOMY — So far as he knows, Eisenhower said, the fact that steel production is at about 50 percent of capacity provides the only grounds for predictions by some economists that the country is headed for a new recession.

Actually, Eisenhower said, 50 per cent of capacity today is comparable to 75 per cent a few years ago because of the big increase in production facilities.

CAMPAIGN — Eisenhower said that at present his only plans for participation in the presidential and congressional election campaigns are a speech at the GOP National Convention in Chicago the evening of July 26, and a breakfast there the next morning.

But in making that statement he did not rule out possible additional activity in the fall.

Johnson Aides See Victory On 5th Ballot

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's campaign forces said today they aim to land the Democratic presidential nomination for him no later than the fifth convention ballot.

They conceded that overtaking the pace-setting Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts represents a large-sized order. But Oscar L. Chapman, co-chairman of the Citizens-for-Johnson campaign organization, issued the flat prediction that "we'll make it."

Johnson formally announced his long-known candidacy yesterday and told a televised news conference "I expect to be nominated."

The Texas senator said his backers have told him a third-ballot victory is possible, but he added he feels no one can predict with certainty of which ballot the decision will come.

Johnson headquarters said the senator plans no further public move in his campaign until reaching Los Angeles Thursday afternoon, when another Johnson news conference is planned.

Kennedy reserved comment at his Cape Cod summer home. He plans to fly to Los Angeles on Saturday.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) said during a visit to Harrisburg, Pa., he didn't think much of Johnson's chances.

TO START OCT. 1

Novato Council Votes Public Works Director

It took more than half an hour of discussion last night for Novato city councilmen to come up with a starting salary figure for a city director of public works.

Councilmen finally agreed to advertise for a director at a beginning salary of $600 a month ("Say $7,200 a year, that sounds better," councilman M. E. (Babe) Silva suggested).

The long, serious discussion came after Mayor Wayne Womack and Councilman Charles R. Johnson proposed more than a $600 monthly starting salary. Councilmen John Angeloni and Silva favored a figure closer to $500.

City administrative consultant Robert Bailey had started with a suggestion of $675 per month for a man who would have an engineering degree or equivalent experience, and who would do city engineering work, surveying, and laying out of drainage plans. The city will take over the public works department from the county on Oct. 1.

"I'm known as a penny pincher" in running a city, Bailey said, but strongly advocated that the council pay a higher salary which, he said, would mean a long-run saving.

The discussion ended a four-hour council meeting which saw Womack state that he personally favors no specific civil service program for top city officials such as the administrator, police chief and public works head, but favors pay raises according to work and city benefit.

Bailey reported to the council that 40 to 55 persons had applied for the city administrator post. Twenty to 25 men have passed preliminary application scrutiny for the police chief post and will take a written examination, he said. All Novato residents who applied for the chief's post have been granted the right to take the first written test, Bailey said.

San Rafael To Open Bids On Five Projects

San Rafael City Council will meet at 8 o'clock tonight to open bids on five projects and for another round of public discussion on the proposed widening of Highway 101 through the city.

Bids will be opened for fire station No. 3, across the highway from Terra Linda; storm water pumps and pipes at Third and High Streets; equipping a fire truck for grass fires, and contracting for street striping and road materials.

Two public hearings are set for tonight. One is on R. D. Lang's proposal to put in a nursery on Greenfield Avenue at West End Avenue. The other is on the proposed rezoning of Palm Avenue, from Jewell Street to Magnolia Avenue, to a minimum lot size of 10,000 square feet.

Other items on tonight's agenda include the final map of Dominican Heights Unit 1 and a proposal to acquire strips of land along Third Street for future widening of Third Street and San Pablo Road.

Gallinas Board Fills Vacancy

The Gallinas Village Community Services District board last night accepted the application of Allan L. Gwynne of 866 Estancia Way to fill a vacancy on the board.

Gwynne will fill the unexpired term of Jay Crotty which runs to June 1962. Crotty resigned.

Another new member, Milton Dawson, attended his first meeting last night.

Bette Davis Wins Divorce In Maine

PORTLAND, Me. (AP)—Actress Bette Davis won a divorce from her actor-husband, Gary Merrill, today. She testified that Merrill was "a man who really must be on his own."

Merrill did not appear in court to contest the charge. He is in Spain making a movie. He was given 30 days in which to appeal. Court officials said there are indications, however, that he will not pursue the case.

Miss Davis, a resident of nearby Cape Elizabeth, was awarded a token alimony of a dollar a year and was given full custody of three children, one by a former husband, and two adopted by the Merrills.

Cadillac

Secret Love of Motorists Everywhere!

It probably won't surprise you to learn that most people—given a choice of any motor car in the land—would choose Cadillac.

For Cadillac is so widely acknowledged the master of motor cars that it has become a vital part of the aspirations of people everywhere.

It is a possession deliberately created to represent design and craftsmanship at their highest levels—and to render the fullest possible measure of personal enjoyment and satisfaction.

Happily, more and more of Cadillac's "secret admirers" have this year decided to declare their intentions—and start driving one!

And with good reason.

First of all, the car itself provides a greater temptation to action than ever before. In the way it looks and rides and handles—it has widened even further the gulf that exists between Cadillac and other motor cars.

Secondly, the "car of cars" is now within the means of an even larger number of motorists.

Its original cost is surprisingly close to cars of far less stature and acceptance. Its dependability and reliability are unparalleled. And, as always, it is the "resale champion" of all motordom.

We suggest you pay your Cadillac dealer a visit—and let him arrange a date with your secret love.

Board Works To Remedy Hall Situation

A visit by the Marin County Board of Supervisors to the county juvenile hall in Lucas Valley during the board's noon recess yesterday completed actions designed to meet eight points of criticism by Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

Dr. Albrecht leveled the criticisms in a leter to the board last week. The board felt it had already ordered remedial measures in most instances, but members visited the hall yesterday to make sure. County Administrator D. A. Jensen summarized the situation in a letter filed yesterday afternoon.

FOLLOWED UP

The supervisors "have either taken care of all the recommendations of the health officer or have followed up to see that their previous action to correct these situations had been put into effect," Jensen wrote.

Dr. Albrecht had urged improved ventilation in rooms. The board said it had previously authorized installation of door vents and this work went out to bid July 1.

On improvement of dishwashing, the board had asked estimate for mechanical equipment and remodeling of the kitchen sink area.

Arrangements have been made to substitute a handwashing bowl for a rarely used drinking fountain adjacent to the kitchen.

NO SPACE

Refrigeration was found in good condition and while a larger unit was felt to be needed, it was pointed out that there's presently no space available.

Responding to recommendation that adequate cleaning supplies and equipment be provided, the board said there are sufficient budget funds for this and changes are being made in supply arrangements.

As to Dr. Albrecht's request for somebody "trained in good housekeeping," the reply was that "the board has already authorized such a person and she is now employed" on agreement that the health officer will give training in proper sanitary procedures.

Trustees Approve Road For Redwood High

A proposal to extend Doherty Drive into Redwood High School grounds will be handed the Larkspur City Council tonight. It was approved last night by Tamalpais Union High School District trustees.

The proposal is to extend Doherty from its present terminus at the Henry C. Hall School to the Redwood boundary at the expense of the city. Construction of a bridge at that point, estimated at $14,000, would be borne jointly by the school district and the city. Also on a cost-sharing basis would be construction of a 32-foot road from the bridge to a point near the district office on the school grounds. The road cost has been estimated at $16,000.

The trustees "approved in principle" plans for improving Miller Avenue at Tamalpais High School which were submitted to the board by Stanley Bala, Mill Valley City Engineer.

Plans call for widening Miller into a four-lane street, construction of center strip sidewalks and other improvements. The plans have the approval of the Mill Valley Planning Commission and are expected to come before the Mill Valley City Council at its meeting tonight.

The board informed Bert Klahn, executive director of the Marin Redevelopment Agency, that the district had not changed its plans for eventual use of a 30-acre parcel in Marin City for a school site and agreed to share in improvement costs of the land.

Cost of improving the site, located approximately in the center of the development, was estimated by Klahn at $34,000.

The board approved publication of the 1960-61 budget of $3,734,290, and set Aug. 1 as the date for a public hearing on it.

William B. Lewis was elected chairman of the board. Edmund J. Thomas Jr. was elected secretary.

Brown Won't Intervene In Execution

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown said today he will not intervene in the scheduled execution of San Francisco slayer Richard T. Cooper.

Cooper, 37, is to die in San Quentin Prison's gas chamber Friday for strangling Earlean Mosley and Elvira Hay in San Francisco.

A judge earlier rejected Cooper's plea that he be executed sooner.

The condemned man had indicated that he wanted to die before any referendum to repeal the death penalty could be placed on the ballot.

No such measure qualified for the ballot.

we'll set the whole — — canyon on fire.' "

"On June 21, four girls were found sitting in a clump of bushes behind a resident's house at 10 p.m. smoking without the slightest regard for safety precautions," it continues.

The single-laned, unpaved outer areas of Cascade and Lovell are being used as "drag strips." Since there are no sidewalks, on several occasions mothers have had to grab their children and jump to one side of the road only "seconds ahead of a racing automobile."

The writers said that on June 20 in one hour's time one resident counted 36 cars passing his house. The total number of cars owned by residents of the area is 16, the letter says.

"A distressing by-product of this constant traffic," it reads, "is a litter of food wrappers, beer cans, cigarettes, broken glass, contraceptives and other refuse that greatly detracts from the appearance of our neighborhood. . . .

"Several of the housewives who have approached these adolescents asking them to slow down—or to stop throwing beer cans—or to be careful with cigarettes and matches — were ignored, insulted or even threatened. These housewives have been subjected to obscenities of the worst kind—words one might see on the walls of the meanest of privies. . . .

"On June 23, one resident and her infant in a car were stopped by eight hitch-hiking teen-agers who proceeded to climb on the bumpers and rock the car, while shouting the type of obscenities mentioned above.

"A few days before this, an older woman resident was stopped in her car by a group of boys who demanded she drive them down Cascade Drive toward the center of town."

The letter says the clamor of voices, clatter of beer cans and roaring of unmuffled motors continues far into the night—frequently until 2 or 3 a.m.

Signers of the letter are Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Dagley, 974 Lovell Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright, 980 Lovell; Mr. and Mrs. Rex Johnson, 933 Lovell; Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Hannon, 955 Lovell; Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Sinnott, 873 Lovell; Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Fong: 544 Cascade Dirve; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beamish, 524 Cascade; E. Hilton Spencer, 530 Cascade; Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Mountjoy, 422 Cascade, and Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Adler, 460 Cascade.

City Manager A. E. Almcrants said he learned of the problem last week. He said he had asked City Atty. Thomas C. Nelson, the county health department and Game Warden Alfred F. Giddings for suggestions as to what might be done. He said he had suggested that some oil or dye might be placed in the reservoir waters to discourage teen-agers from swimming there.

Sanitary Unit Passes Budget Of $15,885

A budget of $15,885 for the new fiscal year was approved last night by directors of the Tiburon Sanitary District.

Increases in costs of maintenance and operation added $2,000 over last year's budget, secretary Robert A. Sterling said. "The board thinks that the tax rate will be approximately 50 cents per $100 assessed valuation," Sterling said. Sixty cents is the maximum tax rate.

The board approved plans for Mariner Oaks subdivision and discussed the suggestion that a mural be painted on the treatment plant wall replacing the present ivy cover. The board took no action, as it has not been officially informed. "Unofficially, the board's reaction is one of welcome, it it could act as judge of the mural." Sterling said.

Police Phone Bill

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Taipei police bureau is in danger of having all its phones cut off because it owes more than $5,000. The bureau said it did not have the money because its budget is too small. It asked the city government for a special appropriation.

Mother Testifies Mechanic Beat Her Son Across Mouth

A 20-year-old mother, looking timid and nervous, testified today that Lyle W. Hancock, San Rafael mechanic, beat her child across the mouth repeatedly with a belt.

Elizabeth Hoffman, 20, who lived with Hancock, 42, at 105 Auburn Street until June 24, told of the beating at a preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court. Judge Richard M. Sims ordered Hancock held to answer in superior court. Hancock is scheduled to be arraigned in the higher court next Monday. He is in jail in lieu of $10,500 bail.

Mrs. Hoffman told the judge her 2-year-old son, Billy Jack Stamper, was crying. This awakened Hancock, who had been asleep. She said Hancock wrapped a belt around his left hand and struck the baby with the loose end of the belt "on back of the legs and across the mouth."

Deputy Dist. Atty. P. Roy Vallarino, prosecutor, led her through the events of the night of June 24.

Mrs. Hoffman said she was sitting on the bed crying while the baby was whipped. At one point, she said, she got in Hancock's way and "I was hit along with the baby, but I didn't have enough brains to move back." She said the beating continued "maybe 15 or 20 minutes."

"He told me to pack my clothes and get out, and the way I felt, I was going to do it anyway." She said she left for relatives in Santa Rosa, where she now lives.

Under cross examination by Deputy Public Defender Jerome Durham, Mrs. Hoffman said she had used the belt on her son just before Hancock beat the baby. However, she said she hit him on the buttocks and "never hard enough to hurt him." She said the baby had some old marks on him from falling while playing in the yard. One was a mark across his nose, and the other on his elbow.

After the incident, Mrs. Hoffman said, Hancock came to her and apologized, promising never to touch the baby again. She said he induced her to tell the district attorney that the boy had suffered the injuries from falling down an embankment.

Mrs. Hoffman testified that Hancock looked hurt. "He said he hardly ate or slept since the incident, and I believed him."

She had lived with Hancock for a year and four months, she said.

$1.8 Million Gate Bridge Budget Passed

The Golden Gate Bridge District finance committee today approved an operating budget of $1,897,003 for fiscal 1960-61, an increase of $210,000 over the past year.

The committee also approved a $2,262,500 budget for equipment and bridge additions and improvements. This includes $1,200,000 for widening the Marin approach to the bridge and $800,000 for traffic control arches.

MAINTENANCE MONEY

The budget also includes $30,000 for additional maintenance equipment; $10,000 for fencing rights of way; $14,000 for a mobile radio system; $5,000 for shop tools, and $3,500 for office furniture and miscellaneous equipment.

It provides a 5 per cent increase for all bridge employees not under union contract, and validates increases for union employees which have been accepted in new contracts.

NET PROFIT

General Manager James Adam reported the bridge showed a net profit of approximately $1,250,000 during the fiscal year which ended June 30. In addition, Adam said, reserve funds now total $17,454,128.

The committee also agreed to change designations of toll collectors to "bridge officers" and supervising toll collectors to "bridge sergeants, bridge lieutenants and bridge captains." Adam said these men are actually peace officers while on duty.

The only major increases in the operating budget, aside from pay raises which totaled about $34,000, were $120,000 for special studies on improvement of the toll plaza and the flow of traffic. No new employees were proposed.

know what they were doing."

Erskine argued: "You should not sweep aside the recommendation of the planning commission which has studied this proposal for over a year. Why can't we settle this in a gentlemanly way so that we won't have to go to court and cause the city time and money?"

Mayor Watkins again pointed to the fire hazard, saying homes on pilings would not allow access on the windward side. Mrs. Scott felt "the less fill, the better, as far as esthetics are concerned." Dr. Flint argued that piles are more stable than fill. Williams had no comment.

Larkspur Trustees Elect Chairman

M. K. Taylor last night was elected chairman of the board of the Larkspur School District, a position he held four years ago.

Cuba Readies To Grab U.S. Sugar Plants

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro's government prepared today to seize all United States-owned sugar mills in Cuba as a likely first step in reprisal against U.S. cuts in the Cuban sugar quota.

Informed sources believe that confiscation will follow as soon as President Eisenhower signs legislation enpowering him to reduce or eliminiate Cuba's share of the U.S. sugar market.

OTHER PROPERTY

After that, they believe all other American property here probably will be seized.

Among the most likely targets for immediate seizure are the 300-million-dollar Cuban Electric Co., which is half-owned by the American and Foreign Power Co., and the 125-million-dollar Cuban Telephone Co., about 65 per cent of whose stock is owned by the U.S. International Telephone and Telegraph Co.

The Commodity Stabilization Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture suspended all Cuban sugar imports yesterday in a preliminary move.

NO DOUBT

And there is no doubt here that President Eisenhower is going to make a slash in the remainder of Cuba's 1960 sugar quota.

The sources said that as soon as the president authorizes the import cut, Castro will start a "clean sweep" of American properties here.

The first step will be nationalization of the sugar mills in accordance with powers granted Castro and President Osvaldo Dorticos at a cabinet session that ended in the early hours this morning.

Baby Doll 'Capricious'

Boy Leaves Larkspur Home; Boat At Boardwalk Missing

A 12-year-old boy and a boat —presumed to be together— have been missing from Larkspur since Monday evening.

David Paul Elsworth, son of Mrs. Ida Etta Ellsworth of Marin Trailer Court, left home Monday at 11 p.m., according to Police Chief Howard Clark. A young friend reported the boy told him he "Was going to take a boat and go to Richmond."

A boat belonging to Carl Tornberg of 29 Greenbrae Boardwalk has been reported missing since approximately the same time, Clark said. Neighbors of Tornberg reported hearing a boat going down Corte Madera creek around 11 o'clock Monday night.

When last seen, the boy was wearing blue jeans and a red sweat shirt. He is 5 feet, 4 inches tall, has brown eyes, black hair and an olive complexion.

The boat, which is painted brown, carries the serial number of 1754AJ and is equipped with a five-and-one-half horsepower Evinrude outboard motor. The boat was last seen at its mooring place in front of Tornberg's home.

The boy has been in Larkspur only about three weeks, coming here from Modesto.

the North San Pedro Road near the entrance to the Nike site. It was reported to have been started by two boys playing with matches.

On a hill between Hutchinson Co. rock quarry and San Quentin Prison, the county and prison fire departments put down a one-acre blaze of undetermined cause.

Novato had two small grass fires yesterday, reportedly set by children at 19 Joan Avenue and at the end of Stone Drive. Neither fire caused serious damage.

There was a grass fire at 58 Marinita Avenue in San Rafael blamed on children, and one at Madrone and Magnolia Avenues.

In Belvedere a grass fire broke out on a vacant lot between Bayview Avenue and Buckeye Road; and on White's Hill a small grass fire was put out on the east side of the hill by state forest ranger James Green. The cause of both fires was undetermined.

Low Lighting Urged For Golden Gate Span

A recommendation was made to Golden Gate Bridge District directors yesterday that the high lighting standards across the span be removed and replaced with lighting a couple of feet off the roadway.

Traffic engineer Arthur C. Jenkins and D. M. Finch, professor and research engineer for University of California's Institute of Transportation and Traffic Engineering, both recommended the new low lighting.

They told the bridge building and operating committee that fluorescent tubes installed in an eight-inch high box along the steel beams which edge the highway would give better lighting than improved overhead lights. Proposed are the replacement of the present sodium vapor lights with new mercury vapor lights, similar to those installed recently in San Rafael.

Cost of the low level lighting would be about twice that of converting the present system to mercury vapor, they estimate.

The committee decided to keep the proposal under study.

The committee recommended to the board of directors:

1. A ban on riding of bicycles across the bridge. The committee would permit bicycles to be walked across the span.

2. Allocation of $6,000 for repair of the base of San Francisco pylon 1, from which concrete has been falling, exposing reinforcing steel.

3. Approval of the extension for another five years of the Round House Restaurant lease to Benjamin Stacey, who has operated it for five years. The general manager reported the bridge has realized $37,550 in rent in the five years, on the basis of 8¼ per cent of the restaurant's gross receipts. The same terms would apply to the new lease.

Barefoot Man Pleads Guilty To Burglary

Alfonso LaRiva Alvarado, 26, admitted yesterday he was committing second degree burglary when trapped barefoot inside a professional office building in San Rafael on June 28.

Attorney Thomas G. Fitzgerald, who was asleep inside one of the suites in the building, awoke to the pit-pat of stockinged feet and called police.

Alvarado is scheduled to be sentenced next Monday in Marin Superior Court. He had just got out of jail for the burglary of the Greyhound bus depot in San Rafael last April 21.

Another suspect, caught with Alvarado, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court. He is James Edward Burg, 34, who faces a preliminary hearing Friday morning.

San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa said Alvarado and Burg lived in a rooming house at 883 Fourth Street, next to the office building. The skylight was smashed, and Alvarado slithered down a rope made of two bedsheets, the chief claimed.

Police Officers John J. Kingston and Leland J. Ahern entered the building with drawn guns and captured Alvarado. Burg was later caught slipping out the back door.

Tax Saving Of $400,000 Claimed

Marin County taxpayers have been saved $400,000 to $414,000 in the last five years by the County Supervisors' Assn. of California, its general manager claimed yesterday.

William MacDougal appeared before the Marin County Board of Supervisors to describe activities of the association in which the Marin board holds membership.

He said the $400,000-plus had been saved for Marin by having the state take over expenses from counties, and by new costs being "beaten off by united action of the counties."

Supervisor William D. Fusselman asked, "How do you know?"

MacDougal said this was "estimate of a rough nature" regarding a "varied list of special pieces of legislation on which cost estimates have been made."

90 Days Given In Assault Case

Joseph Frank Armus, 31, of 38 Miraflores Avenue, San Rafael, drew 90 days in jail yesterday for assaulting San Rafael insurance man Paul C. Grandjean, 41, last April.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori put Armus on three years' probation, and ordered him to pay for any damages suffered by Grandjean. If Armus gets a job, he will have furlough privileges.

Witnesses said Armus attacked Grandjean from the back on Fourth Street in San Rafael last Feb. 19.

Truck Driver Denies Assault

Joe Andrew York, 33-year-old Novato truck driver, yesterday denied he had raped a 20-year-old Novato housewife during a party at her home on Monday night.

He pleaded innocent before Judge Richard M. Sims of Marin Municipal Court. The judge set bail at $1,050 and a preliminary hearing at 3 p.m. on July 13.

The woman, five months pregnant, told sheriff's deputies she had invited friends to her home, and York came uninvited. She said he attacked her in her bedroom, threatening to disfigure her face if she did not submit.

Good Attendance Record Shattered

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—For three years Spotty, a shepherd dog, had a perfect attendance at Menlo Park school.

Rain or shine Spotty followed his owners, Linda, Rickey and Tony Padilla, to school.

Principal Jacque Fajnum was so impressed that while handing out certificates at the end of the school term, he showed a special certificate and read the inscription—"This certifies that Spotty has completed the school year, as prescribed by the Board of Education, by attending school every day."

Tony was sent out to bring in Spotty for the presentation.

Spotty, for the first time in three years, had skipped school.

Benjamin Franklin had 16 brothers and sisters.

Drunken Driver Fined, Jailed

Edward Nelson Matthews, 41, of San Francisco drew five days in jail and $263 fine yesterday for his fourth drunken driving offense since 1944.

Judge Richard M. Sims of Marin Municipal Court sentenced Matthews for driving while intoxicated along Highway 101 near Sausalito on June 20. He had prior convictions in 1944, 1946 and 1955, all in San Francisco. Mathews will automatically lose his driver's license for at least a year.

James George Sigman, 41, of 45 Corte Dorado, San Rafael, drew $158 fine and six months probation. Sigman was caught on Red Hill Avenue in San Anselmo on May 13.

CAT LAPS CAT LAP—The Siamese cat is getting a meal of cholesterol-free, vitamin-fortified milk—and obviously liking it. Pleased at Pussy's preference is Arthur D. Talbott of Tiburon—for good reason: He introduced and markets the canned cat's milk, called Cat Lap. (Independent-Journal photo)

LIKE BABY'S FORMULA

Tiburon Man Makes Special Food For Cat

Pussy has graduated into the baby food class.

Her milk now comes in a can, with the animal fats replaced by vegetable oils and fortified with vitamins — just lik in little Willie's formula.

The creator of this boon to felinity is a Tiburon resident, Art' ir D. Talbott of 6 Warren Court. His product, now appearing on the shelves of supermarkets and pet food stores, is called Cat Lap.

It seems that Pussy, besides being sometimes plagued by fleas, worms, distemper and hair balls in the stomach, is also subject to heart ailments.

Cats, says Talbott, are susceptible to a high level of cholesterol, with possible consequence in heart trouble. Animal fats contain cholesterol, he notes, but vegetable oils do not.

Skim milk is used for Cat Lap, with vegetable oils and vitamins D and E added.

Talbott says there are some 28 million cats in the United States, of which two million are in California. He sees a bright future for Cat Lap, which is now in about a dozen grocery stores and pet shops in the Bay Area.

J. C. Meyenberg Co. of Ripon, originator of evaporated milk, manufactures the product for Talbott, who handles the distribution. Associated with him in the venture is Dr. Benton S. Gaskell, minister of the Community Congregational Church of Tiburon.

The cats really lap up Cat Lap; which has caused Talbott to start working on a similar product for dogs.

He has a name for it already: Dog Nog.

Prince Philip Views Picasso Art; His Reaction: 'Ha, Ha,'

LONDON (AP)—Prince Philip, a buff for science, cricket and polo, spent 32 minutes surveying the 65 years of artist Pablo Picasso's career last night and 35 minutes at the chow table that accompanied it.

"Ha, ha, ha," was the major comment on the art from the husband of Queen Elizabeth II.

What he thought about the food — that Spanish hash of chicken and rice called paella — was not reported.

The prince was the honor guest at the opening of the Tate Gallery's summer show of Picassos. The 268 paintings and other works from private and public collections in 12 countries, are the biggest showing of the noted Spanish artist's work ever assembled.

The artist stayed home at his chateau in France, keeping up the prodigious output which has made him a millionaire at 78.

In addition to the paintings, paella and Philip, the 2,000 previewers who paid five guineas — $14.70 — a head got to see movie stars Gregory Peck and Anthony Quinn, to drink a sour red wine called sangria and to hear a background of canned flamenco music.

The show opened to the public today and will run until Sept. 18.

Proceeds of the preview went to the Institute of Contemporary Arts, a private group which has plans for an exhibition and study center in London. Fleur Cowles, American writer now married to a Briton, is a big wheel in the institute.

The collection ranged from Picasso's "Girl With Bare Feet," painted when he was 14, to stylized compositions completed last year.

Stick-To-It

LAKELAND, Fla. (UPI)—Mrs. Helen K. Apfelbeck of Lakeland, Fla., is a shining example of how perseverance pays off.

The 53-year-old mother of three and grandmother of four, who started college in Nebraska 31 years ago, was recently graduated from Florida Southern College here.

U-2 Spy Pilot Doesn't Want Visitors Yet

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—U-2 spy plane pilot Francis G. Powers has been emphatic in writing his family not to visit him before his Moscow trial, attorneys seeking to aid the imprisoned American said last night.

The attorneys told a news conference they could give no definite reason for Powers' comments.

With the attorneys at the news conference was Barbara Powers, wife of the pilot. She said little during the session.

Powers was captured by the Soviets when his plane went down deep inside the Soviet Union in May.

Mrs. Powers said she had received a second letter from her husband saying he was being well treated. She said she could not detect if the letters had been censored.

The attorneys said her letters and the two Powers had written his parents at Pound, Va., had been studied carefully by psychiatrists.

The three attorneys were named by the Virginia State Bar Assn. to offer legal help to Powers. They have applied for visas to the Soviet Union.

Newport Cleans Streets For President's Visit

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI) — This town of two faces swept the last beer cans from its red carpet today, tidying up for the arrival of its foremost summer visitor, President Eisenhower.

The last remnants of the weekend riots that left the city's streets littered with debris were whisked away by double shifts of the Newport public works department.

The jazz cats who flocked here for the Newport Jazz Festival were gone. The troublemakers who touched off the riots Saturday night outside the festival park had also vanished.

The community was once again a quiet seaside resort, the playground of high society and a presidential vacation spot.

Public works department Supt. Raymond Garcia whose men have worked extra shifts since Sunday to clean up the mess proudly proclaimed his city's streets "beautiful."

Although everything is shipshape, the president, who is scheduled to arrive tomorrow, probably will see little of Newport. His summer residence will again be at Fort Adams, part of the Newport Naval Base, just as it was in 1957 and 1958 when he vacationed here.

His only trips to the city probably will be to the Newport Country Club where in previous years he has played golf every possible day.

High School District Dumps Method For College System

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A Colorado school official said yesterday a Ford Foundation experiment in using college methods in teaching high school resulted in better student achievement in his district.

M. Delbert Lobb, research director of the Jefferson County School District, west of Denver, said the experiment had not saved any money, however, nor did it make possible any reduction in force.

He said the district junked the old system of dividing all students of a certain subject into sections and giving each an hour's classroom work every day. Instead, the district used the college-style method of two-hour group lectures twice a week and laboratory and discussion sessions three times weekly.

In 1885 there were 695 strikes in this country, reports the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Phone Exchanges Merger Approved

Merger of the Bolinas and Stinson Beach exchanges of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. was approved yesterday by the California Public Utilities Commission.

The commission frowned, however, on PT&T's choice of "Stinson Beach" as the name for the combined exchange. Two Bolinas residents protested at a June 8 hearing against loss of identity by their community and proposed a combined name, such as Stinson-Bolinas.

"It appears that applicant's choice of names is unfortunate," said the PUC in its findings. "Approximately a year remains before the consolidation will be completed. Surely during such a period, a suitable name may be selected by applicant."

The telephone company plans to consolidate the two exchanges at a Stinson Beach location. Initially, the new exchange will be housed in a huge trailer, permission for which has been received from the Marin County Planning Commission.

The change is planned for next spring, although the PUC gave the company until March 31, 1962, to carry it out.

It will eliminate a message service charge for calls between Bolinas and Stinson Beach. On outside calls, it will add to the cost in some cases and reduce it in others.

The three-minute toll rate between Bolinas and Bodega Bay and between Bolinas and Sebastopol will rise five cents. But it will drop five cents on calls to Corte Madera, San Francisco central district and San Rafael. Some calls for distances over 40 miles will increase in cost.

The company reported subscribers would realize a net reduction of $4,700 per year, over-all. The PUC did not quarrel with this figure.

During the hearing, the telephone company also disclosed plans to replace some open wire lines with cables next spring. This is expected to improve reliability and eliminate some complaints about service which were voiced by Stinson Beach and Bolinas residents.

Hilarita Blaze Laid To Children

Fire, believed to have been caused by children smoking, caused $150 damage yesterday at the Hilarita Housing project on Tiburon Boulevard.

Tiburon Fire Chief Frank J. Buscher said that the fire was under Building C and was burning mattresses and household furnishings stored there. The bottom of the flooring was also in flames when 10 firemen arrived in three trucks.

Buscher said he was told children had been playing underneath the building earlier in the day, and it was believed they had been smoking.

Newsman Appointed To County School Board

Harry Press of San Anselmo, city editor of the San Francisco News-Call Bulletin, was appointed last night to the Marin County Board of Education.

Press, 40, was named to a one-year term to fill a vacancy created by a change in the state law which increased to four years the length of board terms, but could not increase the three-year terms of those holding the positions.

Lyman B. McBride of Sleepy Hollow, who had held the post, did not seek appointment.

In accepting, Press agreed to run next year for election to a full term.

O B Cavanaugh of Stinson Beach, whose three-year term also expired June 30, was appointed unanimously for another year to succeed himself. He, too, agreed to run again at the election next year.

Appointment of Press came after the five carryover members of the board acted as a committee of the whole to select McBride's replacement. The selection was made from 10 candidates, according to Theodore V. Cole of Novato, chairman of the committee.

The vote for Press was not unanimous, however. Howard Chadd of Sausalito abstained. Chadd said after the meeting he had been unable to be present for the third of the committee's three meetings, had not met Press and knew nothing about him, so he decided not to vote.

The newspaperman, his wife and three children, live at 8 Brookside Court, San Anselmo. One of his children attends Sir Francis Drake High School, the others are in Brookside School.

A 1939 graduate of Stanford University, Press went to work for the San Francisco News out of college and has been with it ever since. In 1955 he won a Nieman Fellowship for a year's study at Harvard University. He has been a resident of Marin County for 14 years.

Press and Cavanaugh were sworn in immediately after their appointment by County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

School Really Tops Mathematics List

GRAND MEADOW, Minn. (AP)—They pride themselves on quality, not quantity at Grand Meadow's small high school.

The school, which has only 240 students, placed three of its students among the top six individual winners in the 1960 state high school mathematics contest.

Employees' Ideas Are Paying Off

NEW YORK (AP)—Those little boxes on most company walls marked "Suggestions" pay off handsomely to employees with money-saving ideas.

American industry awarded more than 13 million dollars for ideas on plant improvement and efficiency in 1958, latest year official figures are available, according to Steelways, official publication of American Iron and Steel Institute.

Of the 1,700,000 ideas proposed, one out of four was accepted.

The magazine says in the steel industry alone 968 ideas were accepted from employees, enabling steel makers to save more than $872,000 a year in production costs.

There are municipalities named Washington in 11 states, not counting the one in the District of Columbia.

A THIRD IN WORKS

Corte Madera Acts To Accept 2 Streets

Two of Corte Madera's unaccepted streets were taken into the town system and approved for maintenance, and initial steps were taken to form an assessment district for improvement of a third street at last night's town council meeting.

After a study and report on unaccepted streets by Councilmen Roger F. Morse and Raymond De Young, the council decided Walnut Avenue was sufficiently used by the public to justify taking it into the town system. The street connects Madera Gardens and the Palm Hill area with the southern end of Larkspur.

The council voted to urge the county to bring a portion of Walnut which is under county jurisdiction up to a minimum standard.

Also accepted into the town system was Sausalito Street, which will be widened and brought up to standard by town forces this summer. An ordinance prohibiting parking on Sausalito between Tamalpais Drive and Buena Vista Avenue was unanimously approved.

Assessment district proceedings for improvement of Upper Stetson Avenue were started on the strength of a preliminary petition requesting such action by a number of residents.

The legal firm of Kirkbride, Wilson, Harzfeld and Wallace of San Mateo was appointed by the council to draw up the necessary forms for a formal petition for the district. Approval of owners of 60 per cent of the property within the district is required. The council agreed that the city would furnish legal and engineering services for the district if approved.

The same firm was appointed to initiate legal proceedings for an assessment district for a drainage system in Mariner Highlands subdivision. Major owner of property in the area is the San Clemente Land Co., estimated as owning 77 per cent. Also owning property in the district is the First Baptist Church, which was represented before the council by Rev. Gerald Moyer. The pastor told the council the church did not oppose taking part in the assessment district proceedings.

In other action last night, the council:

1. Asked Corte Madera Sanitary District whether it would share cost of purchase of a compressor with the town.
2. Approved a contract let by Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow to Lee Mac Paving Co. for paving in front of the Mobil Oil Station on Paradise Drive in the amount of $1,713.
3. Approved lot line changes in Mariners Cove subdivision which would create a passageway allowing three lots access to the waterfront.
4. Instructed the town manager to draw up specifications for a guard rail to be constructed at 30 Summit Drive to prevent damage to a fence located on a sharp curve.
5. Called for bids for a fill project in the town park, to be opened Aug. 15 at 7:30 p.m.
6. Adjourned until July 14, 7:30 p.m., for a budget session and a call for bids on improvement of Oakdale avenue between Chapman and Eastman streets.
7. Approved appointments by Mayor Edward H. Colthurst of John Maurer to the park and recreation commission; Felix Pioli to the planning commission, and Robert LaDow to the board of adjustments.

Corte Madera Limits Out-Of-Town Fire Calls

Residents outside the Corte Madera town limits, who have up to now been receiving fire protection from the town, will either have to annex to the town, set up their own fire districts or contract for fire protection after Sept. 1.

According to a resolution passed last night by the town council, the volunteer fire department will, after that date, respond only to fires in areas within the corporate limits and in those cities and fire districts with which the town has joint protection agreements.

Areas affected by the move include an unincorporated island in the Meadowsweet area, three houses on Palm Hill and and uninhabited, unincorporated area between Fifer Industrial Park and Corte Madera.

Within the area are Marin Joe's restaurant, and several apartment houses and single dwellings. Representatives of the Meadowsweet Improvement Assn. have scheduled a meeting with the town council on July 21 at 7:30 p.m. for discussion of the problem.

(When asked by the council how Fire Chief Frank Nelson felt about the ultimatum, Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow said "he was not at all enthusiastic. "He likes to put out fires," Brandow said.)

The 5,000 blind children in the United States today, victims of retrolental fibroplasia, will cost an estimated $100,000 each for education, training and support from birth to death.

Fire Destroys Empty Cabin Near Lake

A San Rafael doctor's empty hunting cabin west of Alpine Lake burned to the ground yesterday afternoon.

The fire in the cabin, owned by Dr. Malcolm H. Finley of 280 Margarita Drive of the Country Club area, was reported by a motorist on the Bolinas-Fairfax Road.

County firemen under direction of Chief Charles R. Reilley were able to keep the blaze from spreading. Reilley said the cause had not yet been determined.

Dr. Finley said the cabin was old and he had planned to tear it down. No damage estimate was made.

Planners To Hear Apartment Plan

A hearing on a proposed 10-unit apartment house in Stinson Beach will be held Monday by the Marin County Planning Commission at 1711 Grand Avenue, San Rafael. The hearing is item 14 on an agenda starting at 9 a.m.

Charles J. Hendrickson applied for the apartment use permit for the southwest side of Calle Del Embarcadero approximately 90 feet south of its intersection with Calle Del Arroyo.

License To Be Issued

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The Contractors' State License Board announced it plans to issue a general building contractor's license to Robert Antonioli, 90 Sea Way, San Rafael, if no protest is received by July 20.

A MAN FOR KENNEDY

Paul Amershadian of Dorchester, Mass., hung this sign on a mannequin outside the door of his clothing store to show disapproval of the religious issue in the coming presidential elections. Subdivision Attorney Stands Pat On Approval

A subdivider's attorney who said he was fearful of "persecution by the planning staff" stood on his legal right yesterday to block reconsideration of a verdict already given in his favor by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Benjamin P. Bonelli said he had gone through six months of trouble on behalf of Drake's Beach Estates, a 50-acre project near Inverness Park, and that he meant to stand pat on map approval granted by the supervisors a week ago in reversal of a planning commission view.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lockhart of Inverness Park, adjacent property-owners and holders of land through which an access road runs, asked for a reopening of the matter. Supervisor James Marshall put the subject on yesterday's agenda.

Bonelli said he had been opposed by the planning staff, rejected by the planners, had agreed to two continuances by the supervisors, and having finally won approval was not "going back to where we started." The legal seven-day time for appeal had run out Monday.

County Counsel Leland H. Jordan agreed that a rehearing would be illegal under the circumstances.

The board talked over road problems with the Lockharts and other residents present, and Marshall said that the county must improve its own mile of road leading from White House Pool to the Lockhart gate "or create a bottleneck" to the 1.1 miles of private road leading from it to Drake's Beach Estates.

Lockhart expressed concern over expected heavier traffic and asked for an improved road over a new route. "That would depend on the expense involved," replied Bonelli.

In other business yesterday, the county board of supervisors:

1. Set a meeting for 3:30 p.m. next Tuesday with California Division of Highways engineers to discuss reopening the county's highway contract to allow an access from a proposed interchange at Marinwood to Silveira property.

2. Approved two road resurfacing projects in West Marin: $20,000 for three miles of Point Reyes Lighthouse Road from the Gallagher Ranch to Hall Ranch and $12,000 for two miles of Dillon Beach Road.

3. Appointed Beverly Ruth Lucas as intermediate stenographer clerk in the county clerk's office, $310 a month, as of July 11, and Peter Allen Smith as public guardian at a flat rate of $50 a month, effective July 1.

5. Granted six months maternity leave, starting Aug. 1, to Mrs. Margaret R. Tomczak, group supervisor at juvenile hall.

6. Received petitions with 82 names urging the board to take leadership toward a Point Reyes Peninsula national seashore area.

Terra Linda Services Unit Aide Resigns

Anthony F. Marcelli, controller for the Terra Linda Community Services District for the past year, resigned last night for health reasons.

The district board appointed in his place Arnold H. Brown of 975 Las Ovejas, an accountant with the San Francisco firm of Arthur Anderson and Co.

Brown, a resident of Terra Linda for about two years, came to California four years ago from New York City. He has a degree from Yale Law School.

A new board member, W. Remington Hodgson, was installed. He replaces Murray Peterson, who resigned.

A tentative budget of $39,483 was discussed and will be given final approval at the July 19 meeting, Mrs. Allen B. Schroeder, board secretary, reported.

If approved, the budget would require a tax rate of about 96 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. Last year's rate was 97 cents and the budget was $39,000. The exact rate will depend on assessed valuation, which has increased.

The breakdown of the tentative budget: fire department, $13,316; police, $500; street lighting, $8,328; parks, $6,100; recreation, $4,910; administration, $2,229 and unallocated reserve, $4,100.

Pilotless Plane Wreck

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — A motorist climbing out of his car after a collision was surprised to discover that a pilotless plane had caused the wreck.

The plane broke loose from its concrete block mooring at a nearby private airport during a storm yesterday, soared 50 feet into the air and 100 feet to the expressway. J. Oliver Browder's car was slightly damaged but he was not hurt.

'Tom Sawyer' Cleanup Proposed In Sausalito

A citywide version of painting Tom Sawyer's fence was proposed to the Sausalito City Council last night as a summer recreation program adjunct.

City Manager Charles A. Brown urged that a "work-recreation program" be initiated for teen-agers. As projects, he proposed cleaning up Bayside Park and painting bus stops and the Vina del Mar Plaza fountain.

When the projects were completed, he suggested, the participating teen-agers could be rewarded with a picnic or a trip to Angel Island.

The three councilmen present (George E. Keeney and Marjorie Brady were absentees) seemed to favor Brown's proposal, which he said had approval of the recreation commission, the Lions Club and various parents and teen-agers. No vote was taken on the idea, however.

Only reservation was expressed by Councilman Michael Harris. "I think it's fine," said Harris, "but while it's possible to whip up enthusiasm it's hard to sustain it."

The Sausalito City Council last night also:

1. Adopted a resolution to approve a contract between the city and the Sausalito Foundation to transfer $12,000 from the civic center fund to the general fund to help pay for the Shelter Cove lots.
2. Extended for 60 days a use permit for William H. McDevitt for a 60-unit apartment building on South street, the original permit which expires this month. A committee will be appointed to review the plans. (The apartments are already being built.)
3. Approved final payment of $3,747 for the parking lot between Bridgeway and Humboldt avenues. The total figure was $7,227.
4. Agreed to hold no more meetings this month.
5. Approved payroll of $13,636 and other warrants of $12,873.
6. Authorized City Engineer John L. Hunter to do preliminary engineering for improvement of Rodeo Avenue, and to make a survey to show the location of Humboldt Avenue street boundaries, also to prepare plans to call for bids on a series of street improvements.

Cloud View Trail Abandoned By Sausalito Council

A portion of Sausalito's Cloud View Trail — which, according to City Clerk Amelia Smith, "has no beginning or no end" — was abandoned by the Sausalito City Council last night.

Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. said "The city is abandoning the trail because there is no present or future intention for a street."

This was the final hearing on the matter and, in this case, there was no controversey. Ehrlich said the street will be given back to the property owners from whom it was originally received but that the city retains a 20-foot easement for public utilities.

O'Dell Tries To Stop L.A. Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Tall Tom Sheehan said today he will manage the San Francisco Giants as long as owner Horace Stoneham wants him.

But Old-Folks Tom and the Giants face speedballer Stan Williams (7-2) tonight to wind up their two-game series, and with that prospect, and after what befell the Giants last night, Sheehan may want to go back to scouting for the club.

Billy O'Dell (3-7) was San Francisco's mound hope.

The hero of last night's encounter was southpaw Johnny Podres, now 8-6 for the season, who shut out the visitors 8-0 on a beautiful four-hitter.

Even so, Podres made an apology.

Young Gilly Hodges, visiting here from Brooklyn with his daddy, first baseman, Gil, had told Podres at dinner he would toss a three-hit shutout.

Podres had the three-hitter until Willie Kirkland bounced a single off him with one out in the ninth.

"Yeah, I apologized to Gilly," Podres said with a wide grin.

Podres could apologize to Willie Mays, the major league batting leader. He stopped Willie's hitting streak at 19 games. Podres said his fast ball was the most effective in making Mays strike out once and fly out twice. Willie got on once, on an error, and reached second on a wild pitch. But he died on base.

The victim of the Dodgers' 11-hit attack was southpaw Mike McCormick, now 9-5.

The 21-year-old star had pitched 22 scoreless innings and two shutout wins over the Dodgers until Jim Gilliam doubled off the left field screen in the fourth inning.

Gilliam kept going to third on Felipe Alou's wild throw, then scored when McCormick heaved a wild pitch past catcher Bob Schmidt.

That would have done it. But in the sixth the Dodgers converted four hits and two walks off Mike for three runs.

The seventh was even wilder. Three hits, one error, a hit batsman and a wild pitch produced four more runs.

McCormick retired for a pinch hitter in the seventh. Sheehan paraded Bud Byerly, Joe Shipley and Johnny Antonelli to the mound in the Dodger half of the inning.

Sheehan learned earlier that Stoneham had said he would continue to handle the club, at least for the remainder of this season.

"He's the best friend I have. If he said swim the Pacific, I'd try it," said Sheehan. "If they want a change later, hell, I can always go back to my old job (as chief scout)."

WHO'S ON THIRD?—Everyone, it seems, during last night's 8-0 Dodger victory over Giants. Giant catcher Bob Schmidt (left) races to third to find not one but two Dodgers on the sack. Charlie Neal (43) had tried to score from third on an infield grounder, but when Schmidt ran him back to third Frank Howard was there too. Howard, who had been on second, was ruled out. At right is third baseman Jimmy Davenport of the Giants. (AP Wirephoto)

No Matter Who's The Boss, When Willie's Bat Is Hot, It's Hot

HANLEY

Willie Mays avoids controversial topics just as a preacher avoids sin. He is against them but did not hesitate to tell a New York writer in Philadelphia when his batting streak reached the .500 mark that it had nothing to do with the change in Giant managers.

The writer during that recent Giant visit to Philly told Mays: "Willie your batting binge now is 17 games, 34-for-68, nine homers, three triples, seven doubles, 27 RBI's, with 28 runs scored by you. That's an even .500 with a slugging percentage of over 1,000. Did the switch in managers bring it about?

"Actually," answered Mays, "my streak started while Bill Rigney was still manager. It doesn't make any difference to me who's the manager—whether it's Leo Durocher, Rigney, or as now, Tom Sheehan. I play hard for all of them.

"I've always been a hot-cold hitter. Right now I'm hot.

"When I'm happy I play well. Right now I'm happy because things are going pretty good. Last year I had a similar streak, shooting all the way up into the .400s. And Rigney was the manager. So you see it doesn't matter who the boss is."

But the 29-year-old center fielder was quick to point out that leadership was needed.

"You can't let 25 players go on the loose," Mays added. "They must have a leader, someone they can look to."

This last statement by Mays might be misconstrued as a comment on Sheehan's curfew crackdown while the team was in Philadelphia. Actually he was referring to how the game is played on the field, not conduct off the field. He made the comment before Sheehan's crackdown.

Concerning the switch in managers, about which he previously voiced no opinion, Mays said:

"To begin with, I don't think it's good to change managers in mid-season. When a team is making a run for a pennant it must have a leader who knows each of the 25 men and how to treat them. In our case, we are lucky. Sheehan surely knows us better than some outsider would."

Mays revealed that the Giants' new Candlestick Park was a terrible problem to him earlier in the season.

"I went 0 for 20 at the start of our recent stand in Candlestick," he said. "That's when I dropped to .305. But then I changed some of my hitting habits and things got better. When we finished up I was going pretty good.

"You have to adjust yourself to that park. You don't go for home runs when the wind is blowing. I watch the flags. When they're standing still, I know there's no wind. That's when I swing for the fences. But until then I concentrate strictly on punching the ball in all directions."

Mays, whose highest average for a season is .347 in 1958, says he has no goal set this year.

"I'll take anything I can get so long as it's over .300."

Palmer Fires Solid 70 In British Open

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—Arnold Palmer, the husky Latrobe, Pa., professional who is aiming at a modern "grand slam" in golf, opened his campaign for the British Open title today with a solid 35-35—70.

This put him up with the early leaders on his first round, but three strokes back of Robert de Vicenzo of Mexico who had a 32-35—67.

Palmer birdied the first hole with a four-foot putt and rammed in a 25-footer on the third for a flying start. He rounded the turn one under par after losing a strike at the fourth.

FOUR AMERICANS

Palmer was one of four Americans who survived the qualifying rounds — which do not count in the championship total.

Bill Johnston of Provo, Utah, one of the early starters, shot 36-39—75.

Gene Sarazen, 58, competing in a tournament he won in 1932, was a late starter. Sarazen, one of the grand old men of American golf, first competed in the British Open back in 1922.

Palmer has already won the United States Open and the Masters. To complete the slam he would need to win here as well as in the P.G.A.

The historic "grand slam" of golf was scored in 1930 by Bobby Jones of Atlanta.

Age apparently caught up with Sarazen who shot 40-43—83.

MARIN JUNIOR TENNIS TOURNEY DATES LISTED

San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department today listed July 15-16 and 22-23 as dates for the annual Marin Junior Tennis Tournament, co-sponsored by the Independent-Journal.

Director Joe Rodota also said next Tuesday, 5 p.m., is deadline for filing entry blanks in the popular attraction.

The tourney is open to boys and girls 18 years old and younger in both singles and doubles competition. Last year the tournament attracted more than 240 entries.

Entry blanks will appear in the Independent-Journal this week.

International Golf Opens Set For S.F.—1961-62-63

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — San Francisco will be the site of a major golf tournament for the next three years—a tourney in which there will be no color line drawn.

Eugene Selvage, president of the Lucky Lager Brewing Co., yesterday announced that the $57,000 Lucky International will be held in 1961, 1962 and 1963 here.

The big money event was originally planned as an invitational open. Since the professional Golfers Assn. is co-sponsoring the event, this meant that only PGA members would be eligible to share in the purse.

Several weeks ago, California Attorney General Stanley Mosk ruled that no such restrictions could be placed on tournaments played on publicly owned California courses such as Harding Park—site of the Lucky tourney.

After a conference with J. Edwin Carter, national tourney director for the PGA, Selvage announced that the word "invitational" had been dropped from the tourney title and that he had received permission to hold qualifying rounds for pros who are not PGA members.

The tournament thus will become the first in which Negro players will be permitted to participate on an open basis under a PGA banner.

"That is the way we wanted it from the beginning," said Selvage yesterday. "There is no use having an open tournament if the best player regardless of race, religion or creed cannot participate."

He also announced that qualifying rounds will be held in Hawaii, the Philippines and Japan with the two low players in each area assured a place in next January's tourney here.

Bucs Join Trend Of Starters In Relief

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The way the top clubs are using starting pitchers in relief these days, you'd think it was the final week of the pennant race in the National League.

Even the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates have fallen into the trend, calling on Bob Friend for a save last night as they beat Milwaukee 5-4 in 10 innings on Rocky Nelson's second home run for a 4½-game bulge over the second-place Braves.

The Pirates, shut out for eight innings, hadn't called on a starting pitcher for relief all season. But it's nothing new among the Braves or the third-place San Francisco Giants.

Manager Charlie Dressen of the Braves has used Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette and Bob Buhl a total of 11 times, in starts and relief, in the last 13 games. Mike McCormick, Johnny Antonelli and Jack Sanford have made 11 appearances in the Giants' last eight games under Tom Sheehan.

McCormick, making his fourth appearance in six days, was no match for southpaw Johnny Podres, who allowed just four hits as Los Angeles whipped the Giants 8-0. St. Louis defeated Chicago's Cubs 3-2, and Philadelphia beat Cincinnati 2-0 behind a four-hitter by Robin Roberts.

NELSON HOMERS

The Pirates cracked Carl Willey's six-hit shutout with three runs in the ninth on Nelson's leadoff homer, a walk and Don Hoak's home run. The Braves then almost won it in their ninth. Del Crandall tied it with a bases-loaded single, but when Eddie Haas tried to score from second on the hit, he was nailed at the plate by Bob Skinner's peg from right field.

Nelson finally beat Joey Jay (2-5) with his fifth home run of the season, coming after Skinner singled past second baseman Al Dark with two out. Friend saved it for Paul Giel (2-0), getting the last two outs.

An eighth-inning triple by Bill White broke a 2-2 tie for the Cards as thy knocked off Don Cardwell (4-6) in their first rematch since he beat them with a no-hitter May 15. Lindy McDaniel (4-3), the loser in the no-hitter, won it with 2⅔ innings of one hit relief.

Roberts (5-7) walked one, struck out one and retired 19 in order at one stretch while winning his fourth in a row. The Phils handed Don Newcombe (3-6) his fifth straight loss when they junked his one-hit shutout in the sixth on Ruben Amaro's single and a double by ex-Red Tony Gonzalez.

DUROCHER TO PILOT GIANTS NEXT YEAR?

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Leo Durocher, formerly of the Brooklyn Dodgers, might become the manager of the San Francisco Giants next season, but meanwhile interim pilot Tom Sheehan will remain on the job.

Giant owner Horace Stoneham hinted at handing the helm of the club over to "Lippy" Durocher last night when he replied to questions of the club's 1961 manager with the remark:

"Leo Durocher and I are still very good friends, but we'll have to see about next season."

Stoneham made Sheehan interim manager last month when he fired Bill Rigney after the Giants went into a slump in June. Stoneham said last night he was pleased with Sheehan's new curfew policy.

"Sheehan saw something had to be done and he did it on his own," said Stoneham. The owner's remarks squashed rumors that Sheehan would soon be replaced.

Rodriguez Choice Over Akins In TV Benefit Tonight

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — No matter who wins the Virgil Akins-Luis Rodriguez welterweight fight tonight, the widow of a third fighter will benefit.

Promoter Bill King said 35 per cent of the gross gate receipts will be turned over to the widow and six children of Rudell Stitch.

Stitch, a ranking Louisville welterweight, died a month ago while trying vainly to save a companion from drowning in the Ohio River.

Stitch was to have fought Rodriguez here July 24.

The nationally televised 10-rounder—ABC 7 p.m., PDT — could be a turning point for Akins, who is hitting the comeback trail.

At 32, the St. Louis boxer has been to the heights and down again. In his 12 years of fighting he has won the crown, lost it to Don Jordan and then lost a re-match with Jordan.

He will be a 12-5 underdog against Rodriguez.

Akins has a 51-24-1 record compared with Rodriguez' perfect 28-0 mark. The Cuban won his four bouts this year by knockouts.

Builders Top Hub Junior Standings

The fast-rising Von Rotz Builders have moved into first place in the San Anselmo Junior League—for 13-14-year-olds—with a 7-4 win-loss record and five games yet to play. Erstwhile leading Tool-Teria Rentals shared second with Maggi's Florists at 6-4; Mariani's Cabinets had 5-5 and Booth and Little Roofers 1-8.

In the Little League, Rotary Club headed the majors with 9-5, followed by American Legion 7-5, Jack's Drug Store 7-7, Fire Department 5-6 and Lions Club 4-9.

4 U.S. Davis Cup Players Listed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Jim Moffat, chairman of the U.S. Davis Cup selection committee, yesterday announced the names of four men who will compete against the Canadian team in playoffs starting at Quebec on July 15.

Named to the U.S. team were Earl Buchholz and Charles MacKinley of St. Louis; Bernard Bartzen, Dallas, Tex.; and Barry McKay, Dayton, Ohio.

EX-CAL STAR HART JOINS GRID STAFF

BERKELEY (UPI) — Jack Hart, co-captain of the California Rose Bowl team of 1958, was named yesterday as assistant varsity coach and head rambler coach of the Bears.

The appointment was announced by Athletic director Pete Newell, who also said Scott Sherman would serve as coordinator of recruiting, campus rushing, academic eligibility and admissions of athletes.

Hart, 22, graduated in 1959 and has been a part-time assistant to the California coaching staff. Sherman, 24, is a former executive vice president of the California student body.

Runs In The Family

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP) — Like father like son, they say. Richard E. Pille Jr., a 23-year-old Cornell University law student, got a hole-in-one yesterday with an 8-iron shot on the 117-yard, par 3 second hole.

A few minutes after the feat at the Binghamton Country Club, Richard E. Pille Sr., picked up his 8-iron and duplicated his son's shot.

N.Y. Lead Trimmed By Lowly Senators

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maybe this isn't going to be such a cinch pennant for the New York Yankees after all. Not when they use three starting pitchers in one game and get beat. And not when they lose two in a row for the first time in more than a month, but find their American League whittled to one game. That's what happened when they were held to three hits by Pete Ramos and Chuck Stobbs, blew a 3-0 lead and lost 5-3 in 10 innings at Washington last night. Art Ditmar, who had won five straight, was tagged for the loss after following Ralph Terry and Bob Turley to the mound.

After dropping only eight of 30 games in June, the Yanks now have lost two of five in July. That's not exactly a total collapse, but both losses were to the sixth-place Senators and they now lead second-place Cleveland, idle yesterday, by just one game.

They're also just two lengths ahead of the third-place Baltimore Orioles—who rapped Boston 9-4 in the only other game scheduled in the A.L.—going into the opener of a two-game set at Baltimore tonight. The Indians play six games in five days with Chicago's fourth-place White Sox, beginning with a two-game series at Cleveland.

A two-out single by Reno Bertoia and Bob Allison's follow-up 10th homer beat the Yankees and Ditmar (7-4). The Senators scored in each of the last four frames, tying it on Faye Throneberry's pinch single off Turley with two out in the ninth.

ABUSED LEFTY

Stobbs (6-2), the long-abused southpaw, won his third in a row with two perfect innings of relief for his 99th victory in a 14-year career. Only 31, he has lost 122 in that span and hasn't had a winning season since 1953.

All of the Yank hits came in the first five innings off Ramos, who gave up a two-run homer in the first by Roger Maris, the major league leader with 26. The Nats' controversial righthander, tagged a spitball pitcher by Baltimore Manager Paul Richards and White Sox boss Al Lopez, was handed an automatic fine when he received a beanball warning after hitting Mickey Mantle.

Baltimore picked up three unearned runs in the second inning at Boston against loser Tom Brewer (5-7), then clinched it with two runs in the fourth on singles by Marv Breeding, Jackie Brandt, Gene Woodling and Jim Gentile.

Minister Uses Two-Way Radio

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—The Rev. J. Stanley Wagg has followed the example of police and fire departments by installing a two-way radio in his car to aid him in his ministerial duties.

The Rev. Mr. Wagg, pastor of the First Methodist Church, says his congregation is spread over a large area and the radio keeps him in touch with his office while making calls.

"I believe in using every possible modern tool to help with my ministry," he says.

Women Design Diving Costumes

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)— Skin-diving members of Syracuse rescue squads no longer have to struggle like women shedding rubber girdles after deep-water missions.

That's becaues sympathetic members of the Syracuse Skin-divers, especially the women, have been making safe, more comfortable suits for the police and sheriff's departments.

Mrs. Olive Klaver and friends went into action because pressure almost glues some types of suits to divers who have been down 60 to 80 feet.

The suits are custom made. The diver, clad in bathing suit, lies on a sheet of heavy paper which is cut to size. The suits are made of three-quarter-inch neoprene foam rubber. All seams are cemented and reinforced. About $35 worth of material goes into each suit.

A distributing clerk in the New York City Post Office is required to handle a minimum of 16 letters a minute.

Hearing Slated On Subdivision

A public hearing on the tentative map of Muir Meadows, a 49-acre residential subdivision, will be held by the Marin County Planning Commission on Monday. It is the 10th item on an agenda beginning at 9 a.m.

The proposed subdivision lies on the south side of Highway 1 to the east of George W. Wheelwright's ranch. Fifty-three lots with a minimum size of 13,000 square feet are proposed. Three new streets will be built. Developer is Muir Meadows, Inc.

Colombia has a population of 12 million. Chief export is coffee.

Man Can't Be In Jail And Out At Same Time

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)— Richard A. Smith was certain they had the wrong man when he was hailed into court on charges of stealing junk from a plant damaged by fire.

Smith's attorney produced jail records showing Smith was a prisoner the day of the fire.

The theme of the course is "Teen Time Tastes" and will stress foods which can be prepared by teenagers for their get-togethers or for family eating.

Several recipes to be featured include:

HOT DOG HAMBURGERS

Season ground meat with salt, pepper and Ac'cent. Add chopped onion, if desired. Shape meat into long rolls about the size of thick hot dogs. Wrap a strip of bacon around each roll. MEALTIME IN MARIN

Seasoning Can Lift Salads Into The Gourmet's Realm

By BARBARA HOSMER

With the next weekend looming and guests sure to appear on the horizon, the party hostess begins to cast around for something a little special. Particularly when the guests are discerning and accomplished cooks with appetites bordering on the epicurean.

The hostess can always rely on the routine tossed greens with tomatoes that serves so durably as a side dish. But if she wants to go a step further and provide a true co-star for the roast beef or steak course an unusual salad is what she will choose.

The clever and skilled use of herbs in the salad can help to provide both good fare and good conversation for the evening. Often these are mixed into the salad dressing, though such as poppy seeds curry powder or mustard may go directly into the salad bowl and then be mixed in with the greens or vegetables.

This recipe provides the center for any good combination salad or it can be used as a fine accompaniment for crab. The remainder of the dressing can be used for the salad or you can keep it indefinitely. The proportions given make a sharp flavoring dressing. You can vary the taste by changing the amounts of vinegar and oil.

MUSHROOM SALAD

½ lb. fresh mushrooms
2 tbs. chopped chives

Remove the coarse part of the mushroom stems, clean and slice the mushrooms very thin. Mix with chives and marinate for an hour or so in the following French dressing:

½ tsp. salt
1 tsp. sugar
¾ tsp. dry mustard
Coarse ground black pepper to taste
⅜ cup red wine vinegar
⅝ cup olive oil
1 large clove garlic

Cut up garlic in good sized pieces; add remaining ingredients and mix well by shaking. Remove garlic before the dressing is used. It is best to prepare this 24 hours ahead so that the dressing blends thoroughly.

After an hour of marinating mushrooms, remove them and drain. They are ready to form the base of any combination salad.

Maybe you like Mexican bean salad to accompany barbecued chicken or steaks that Marinites are so fond of throughout the summer.

TRANSPORTATION by jinrikisha from the parking area to the party is one of the features carried out by this group who set the stage for the Southern Marin Recreation Center's "Oriental Fantasy" dance on Saturday night at the Center. In the jinrickisha is chairman Mrs. Kelly J. Wheeler holding Meredith Parnell. Scott Zimmerman pulls the two under the watchful eye of Bryan Del Mar as Kirk Wheeler attempts to pull his sister Bryanne in the miniature vehicle.

Detergent Helps Cull Metals In Seawater

An American industrial firm has patented a new system of extracting uranium, aluminum, gold and copper from the sea.

A South African scientist discovered that by piping air and a detergent into seawater, scum forms which yields 600 tons of aluminum in a day. Smaller quantities of the other substances could be produced in the same way, according to this scientist.

Keep Clean

Like clothing, home furnishings don't have to be expensive to be attractive—but they do have to be kept clean!

Center Midsummer Dinner Dance To Be Held Saturday

Transportation by jinrikisha from the parking area to the party is being considered by the committee in charge of the "Oriental Fantasy" midsummer dinner dance of the Southern Marin Recreation Center.

"This may be the fantasy part of the theme, but we are trying to find one," said general chairman Mrs. Kelly J. Wheeler.

The party will be held Saturday, July 9 at the Center. A cocktail hour will start at 7:30; a Chinese dinner will be served from 8 to 9:30 p.m. and dancing will follow until 1 a.m.

The decoration committee is planning to float candles and flowers in the pool. Around the side will be bamboo poles from which will hang the traditional paper fish. On the decoration committee are the E. R. Jeromes, Robert Bilgers and Sam Schneiders.

A special feature of the dance according to program chairman Mrs. John Del Mar will be the appearance of a group of Oriental dancers from San Francisco. The group is composed of nine women and one man who perform the intricate patterns of a ritualistic butterfly dance.

The group performed recently at Kezar Pavilion on the same program with the Nani Iolani Polynesian dance group from the Center.

On Cleanliness

Cleanliness is evidently a commodity to be bought by the pound in Japan! Public bath operators in Tokyo have asked for the following rate increases: Adults, from four to seven cents a bath; children aged six to 12, from three to five cents; and children under six, from two to three cents.

Painting With Suds Clean Outdoor Fun

"Painting" sidewalks, porch steps, or fences becomes a fascinating occupation when a child has a pail of thick soap or detergent suds and a big paint brush — to wield in any way he chooses.

He is sure to dip the brush again and again into the sparkling mixture, slap it smartly against the "canvas" he's chosen, and then watch the sun glinting on the bubbles until they finally disappear. This game keeps a pre-school child happily occupied out-of-doors for as long as Mother wants to keep re-filling the pail!

Launder Often

Manufacturers of foundation garments urge women to launder them often. The experts know that only a clean garment is going to fit snugly and last long.

Gilio Bordonis Entertain At Party On Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Gilio Bordoni of Larkspur entertained on Sunday at their home in the Palm Hill District with a Fourth of July party.

A buffet luncheon was served to 30 guests on the patio and Mr. Bordoni entertained with solos on the accordion.

Later in the evening, Mrs. William Stewart and Mrs. James Jenkins played duets on the piano and accompanied Mrs. Bordoni with several solos.

Dancing on the patio concluded the evening's festivities.

Guests included Messrs. and Mesdames Eric Pesozzi, William S. Stewart, John Satmary, Edward Kerbs, Clarence Grochouski, Oristo Sinisgallo, Vita Battaini, Edward Leone, Stanley Pesozzi, James Jenkins, Carlo Favero, Mrs. Virginia Lovett and Mrs. Edward J. Milner and son Edward.

Scout Endorsement

The Boy Scouts of America have given official endorsement to a drip-dry sailcloth printed with Scout activities and merit badges on a beige background.

This fabric is excellent for bedspreads, slipcovers, and curtains for the bedrooms of young scouting enthusiasts. Scout's mothers will be equally enthusiastic about its wonderful washable qualities!

Cosmetic Staple Solves Problem In Surgical Suite

CHICAGO (UPI) — Hair spray — the non-lacquer kind — has been used in place of head shaving for women having brain surgery.

A Washington, D. C. neurosurgeon Dr. Jonathan M. Williams, developed the technique, described in the Journal of the International College of Surgeons.

Williams reported using the spray on 31 women, none of whom developed infections after brain surgery.

Williams has the patient wash her hair five times, in the three to five days before surgery, with a detergent-hexachloraphene shampoo, which makes the scalp practically sterile.

After the patient is anaesthetized, Williams said, her hair is moistened, parted along the line of intended incision, combed into small pony tails and sprayed. The physician said the spray helps destroy germs.

He reported trying the same technique on men, but failing because hair was too short to twist.

To Relax Baby

Just like adults, a baby must be relaxed in order to go to sleep. And to be relaxed, he should not only be fed but comfortably clean.

That means a nice lukewarm bath and freshly laundered clothing should be on the nightly agenda to coax baby along the way to dreamland.

THIS ATTRACTIVE model is showing the new Senior dress uniform for all Senior Girl Scouts. The 100 per cent combed cotton sharkskin fabric requires little or no ironing, is vat-dyed and will not shrink. Its color is a distinctive jewel-tone dark green accented with the special Senior program color on the tie, hat cord and patch.

Youngclaus-Russell Rites Held In Madera

St. Joachim's Catholic Church in Madera was the setting for the recent wedding of Judy Russell of Madera, and Charles Youngclaus of Fairfax.

The couple met in 1956 while attending a national 4-H Congress in Chicago.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Russell of Madera, and the bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Youngclaus of Fairfax.

Rev. Dominic Albertelli, O.S.J. officiated for the 7:30 o'clock double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza appliqued with re-embroidered Alencon lace detailed with seed pearls and crystals. It was fashioned with a portrait neckline, short sleeves and Alencon lace extended to the bell skirt. A peau de soie sash at the bodice was centered at the back with a silk rose and silk streamers. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a Victorian coronet of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Preceding the bride to the altar were honor attendants, JuDee Artenian, JoAnn Nute, Judy Ecklund and Mrs. Linda Thornton of Madera, and Lorelyn Youngclaus, the bridegroom's sister of Fairfax.

They had full length gowns of blue silk organza and lace with Victorian coronets of blue sequins and pearls. Each carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Charles Gerbi of Madera was best man. Escorting guests to their seats were David Fong, Fairfax; John Paye, Grass Valley; Louis Costa, Sacramento, Charles and Mike Baraldi, Madera and James Young of Visalia and Loren Youngclaus of Fairfax, the bridegroom's brother.

Joan and Bob Fulton of Carmichael, cousins of the bridegroom, were candlelighters.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Russell wore an imported blue silk organza frock with blue hat and matching accessories. She had a white orchid corsage.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a beige sheath with beige sequin hat and matching accessories. Her flowers were orchids.

A reception and buffet for 1,000 guests followed the ceremony at Hatfield Hall in Madera. Diana Astin of Salinas, was in charge of the guest book.

Following a wedding trip to Canada and Alaska, the newlyweds will reside in Fresno, where they are seniors at Fresno State College.

The bride, a former California State Diamond Star in 4-H and former National Miss Young America in 4-H, is a speech major.

The bridegroom was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School. He is a national 4-H winner in leadership and California Diamond Star. At Fresno, he is an agriculture major and president of Chi Beta Alpha Fraternity.

Check Shows Women Carrying Staggering Weights in Purses

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Most of us women are toting around several pounds of extra weight — and not always around our waistlines.

It lies in those outsize purses, often plus briefcases, which are putting even lightweights in the heavyweight division.

Give the average woman a large handbag and somehow she fills it, like a small boy stuffs his pockets. Especially, if she's a business or professional women who travel a lot.

I located one lady who packs a .44 pistol in her handbag (she didn't want her name used); another, whose purse holds her portable typewriter which airlines won't check for her; and another whose briefcase often holds a choice churk of cheese or caviar.

A dozen women in a variety of careers weighed their handbags, plus briefcases if they carried them, just to see what poundage we are toting on an arm. The range was from three pounds to a staggering 25. My own purse with notebook and hairspray scaled four pounds 15 ounces.

You would think that the record would go to models who carry makeup, changes of jewelery, changes of shoes, wigs, plus the usual paraphernalia. Not so. It went to Margaret Kennedy, partner in the brokerage firm of Lubetkin Regan and Kennedy.

Her purse weighed five pounds; The attache case filled with pamphlets and books on the stock market ran up another 20.

"Any man with a strong arm is always welcome," said Miss Kennedy.

Four fashion models at the Plaza Five Agency — Dalphne Bell, Jessica Ford, Ann Klen and Olga Nicholas — carried tote bags averaging nine to 10 and one-half pounds.

Designer Pauline Trigere carried the smallest purse, under two pounds, but one of the heaviest briefcases, just short of 11 pounds, into which went appointment book, checks, keys, clippings, makeup, women's wear daily, sketches, candy and vitamin pills. "I think this is chic," said Miss Trigere. "I have a briefcase to match each outfit."

Terry Mayer, a vice-president of the Amos Parrish Buying and Merchandising Firm, carried a three-pound purse, an associate, Polly Guerin, accessories coordinator, toted seven and one-half pounds. Florence Brobeck, author, was surprised to find her handbag weighed only three pounds five ounces "Because it felt more like 10."

Hilda Kassell, who does publicity, carried four pounds four ounces—"But that's large for me," she said. "I'm a small girl and sometimes I see my reflection in a store window and feel like asking, 'Hey bag, where are you going?"

Hope Skillman, the textile tycoon, carried a purse weighing five pounds and a briefcase weighing 12 into which sometimes go cheese or caviar purchases plus fabric swatches, books, order blanks, etc.

Margaret Hockaday, president of the advertising firm of Hockaday Associates, is famous among her associates for her large handbags.

"Well, I hate to carry a briefcase," said the executive, who weighs 114 pounds and carried a purse weighing 10. Into it go manila envelopes, an extra pair of white gloves, low-heeled shoes on days she will be touring a client's factory, and on an out-of-town trip, her typewriter which adds another 12 pounds to the 10.

Miss Hockaday's secretary, Jeanette Stenzler, outdid the boss in purse weights most days. Her's was 11½ pounds.

"But I must confess," she said, "it has an extra pair of shoes and modeling clay. I go to art school one night a week."

New Glass Pitcher

A new glass formula pitcher incorporates several convenience features — measurements clearly marked on one side; a comfortable, easy-grip handle; and a wide tip for pouring without the bother of a funnel.

This pitcher has an extra-wide mouth, making it easy to get the dishcloth into every corner for thorough washing in hot soap or detergent suds—very important because all utensils used for infants' food must be sanitary. Remember that milk should be rinsed with cool water before going into hot suds.

Tips For Bride Shopping For Home Furnishings

By JOYCE SCHULLER

CHICAGO (UPI) — A furniture stylist, Adele Whitfield, offers these tips for the bride shopping for home furnishiings.

Miss Whitfield, who is with a furniture company (Kroehler), suggested that the young marrieds start with an overall plan and a pre-arranged budget, possibly $1,000, which should cover basic needs and leave a little for luxuries.

Plan about $500 for the living room to make it presentable for first guests and the all-important in-laws. This should allow for the purchase of a well-constructed sofa and matching chair, both with foam cushions and soil-resistant fabrics, a small hostess chair in a bright color and a neutral, room-size cotton loop rug. The rug can go into bedroom or family room when it ultimately is replaced with wall-to-wall or other carpeting in the living room.

The living room budget might also allow for coffee and end tables, possibly walnut, a pair of hanging lamps and a couple of bright-color sofa pillows.

Spend about $200 on the dining room or dining area, for a drop leaf table and four matching chairs.

The final $200 is enough for the bedroom, Miss Whitfield says.

HOLD THAT TAN!

Prevent Peeling, Fading With Hand, Body Lotions

The working girl whose longest stretch of freedom in an entire year is a two or three week vacation, regards a rich brown tan as a cherished trophy of her holiday fling. It ranks with pieces of driftwood, crafts of the region and the memory of a brief romance. Keeping it, after she returns to her job, is something else again. The tan, that is—not the romance.

It's depressing to watch a tan quickly fade to a dim beige after it's no longer possible or practical to spend an eight hour day baking under the sun. Of course, you can always revive it a bit on weekends if you're fortunate enough to get away. Or, during your vacation and while you're tanning, you can take steps to make sure it'll last.

All skin, whether it's exposed to ultra-violet or protected by clothes, undergoes a constant renewing process when surface cells expire and are replaced. The dead cells are nothing more than tiny, almost invisible flakes.

When you have a sunburn or tan, this renewing process is furiously accelerated. The sun draws more than the usual quota of moisture up through hair follicle openings and pores—the outer layer of the skin thickens, dries and eventually begins to leave your person, not in tiny invisible flakes, but in strips.

You can get a pretty clear idea of the process if you wet a piece of paper and plaster it against a plate. While it's moist it clings—but as soon as the water evaporates and the paper dries, it curls away from the china surface. This is basically what happens to a dehydrated or sun-drained skin.

Although it's impossible to stop the natural rejection of dead skin cells you can prevent excessive peeling and consequent fading if you take the trouble to replace some of the moisture the sun is absorbing — while you're getting your tan.

Don't sunbathe without first applying a tanning oil, cream or lotion to all exposed parts of your body. Submit to further applications every half hour and whenever you emerge from a swim. This will not only prevent you from burning a hot, berry red but will help augment skin moisture the sun so dearly loves to feed on.

When you're finished with your day's tanning, take a bath or shower and, after you're dry, massage hand and body lotion into all skin surfaces that have been touched by the sun. This is not only a most pleasant balm to use—it never leaves a sticky residue and works a near-miracle in keeping the skin soft, pliable and comfortably moisturized.

Bridge Directors May Find Arches Aren't The Answer

Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District find themselves in a peculiar position. They have spent a goodly amount of money to investigate and design a series of traffic control arches across the bridge, and now have a cheaper and more eye-appealing method proposed to them. The new proposal would put colored lights in the traffic lane markers and thus eliminate massive overhead arches, which would disfigure the bridge.

At the same time, the directors are being told by their traffic engineer and lighting advisors that the best way to illuminate the bridge's roadway would be by fluorescent tubes placed along the roadside. This would make possible elimination of the many tall lighting standards which now tower on both sides of the bridge its full length.

Thus the bridge directors may find they don't have to destroy the streamlined beauty of the bridge by erecting the 17-ton traffic control arches, but can actually further streamline the span by eliminating the lighting standards.

We are in no position to know right now (neither are the bridge directors) whether the proposed new roadway guide lights can be successfully adapted to use on the bridge. They work fine at airports. Thus far, there is no detailed plan of how they could be installed and controlled to change from red to green, or how effective they would be in the fog and rain.

Neither are we prepared to say that fluorescent lighting from low along the roadside would give better highway illumination, although the bridge's advisors say that it would.

We are happy, however, that the directors are at least taking a little time to investigate both the proposals. It would have been easy for them to say, "We've already gone so far with the arches, we might just as well finish." But they didn't. We commend them for that.

Frankly, the less they clutter up the sweep of our favorite bridge, the better we'll like it. And if they can work out a way to unclutter it even more, we'll like that even better.

The Many-Headed Flower

Hydrangeas are blooming now in countless Marin gardens. These showy plants with their big, round clusters of blossoms are a county favorite for summer and autumn bloom.

They love moisture and if permitted to get too dry they sag and look quite wilted, only to revive miraculously when adequately watered. This led us to believe for many years that the "hydra" in the name referred to water.

Just last week it dawned on us that that the name wasn't "hydro," and that the "hydra" was the multiple headed serpent of classical mythology. It seems a very appropriate name for a flower which is composed of a number of single blossoms.

Hydrangeas are blue, white, pink and purple, depending upon variety and the acidity of the soil. Changes in the latter factors can turn pink blossoms blue and vice versa.

Most of our local species are natives of Asia. Hydrangeas are a lovely reminder that plants from all over the world have found homes in Marin.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

ONE WAY TO PERFECTION

An advertisement for a new model automobile claimed that the manufacturers had eliminated "just about every grunt, squeak, squeal, groan, whine, buzz, rap, rattle, beat, twang, clink, hiss, howl, rumble, roar, ruff, shudder, whistle and growl."

Despite a customary use of superlatives, most advertisers acknowledge in one way or another that there is always room for improvement.

They also, as in the above claim for the latest product of a leading automobile company, admit past defects with unusual frankness.

Be honest with yourself in regard to your own human weakness and you will have made the first big step towards perfection.

Those who are smugly content with themselves seldom make any progress in mind, heart or soul. They hold back their own development both spiritually and intellectually. God gives a special grace to those who show perservance in overcoming their shortcomings.

"In many things, we all offend."
(James 3:2)

Help me to see myself as I am, O Lord, and then to strengthen my weakness.

Remarks By American Tourists People Get Tired Of Hearing

NEW YORK (AP)—American tourist remarks that people of foreign countries get tired of hearing:

"This is a nice-looking little country. Is it paid for?"

"Now that you people have got hard roads, when are you going to take a chance on modern plumbing?"

"Don't bother to ask if it's okay to take her picture. She probably wouldn't know what you were saying anyway."

"Yeah, it's nice as cathedrals go, but I though the one in the last town had more real class."

"Don't tell me you're out of ice. Go freeze a pond. Go do anything. But don't come back without ice."

"George, take me back to the hotel this very minute. I can't stand hearing any more of this foreign gabble."

"I don't care how poor they are. If they had any pride at all, they wouldn't let their kids go around in such rags."

"Why do you just stand there and keep saying 'No comprehendy?' Anybody who will just listen ought to be able to understand the kind of English I'm using with you."

"Never mind the museum. How about showing us something that will keep us awake?"

"Well, Ethel, I guess we been in this country too long already. Some of the natives are beginning to look almost intelligent."

"Gee, what funny looking money. What do they use it for—wall paper?"

"Hiya, Jo-Jo! Take me to your leader."

"Well, if you don't have any hot dogs or hamburgers, what do you have that is fit to eat?"

"Sure, I'll admit the view is fine up here. But tell me, what do you do for laughs?"

"The real trouble with a lot of these jokers is — they never had to meet a payroll."

"DON'T GIVE her money, Ethel. She'd probably much rather have a package of chewing gum to take home to her kids."

"Yes, it is picturesque — but everything seems so terribly, terribly dirty. If you pulled out a bar of soap, you'd probably start a panic."

"THEY COULD tell we're Americans. Otherwise, I'll bet you I could get this same room for a week—instead of a day—at the same price."

PGE Should Aid Marin's Beauty

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

If Marin is to remain beautiful it will require the cooperation of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. regarding the installation of new power lines and poles.

In my instance, they were granted a right of way adjacent to my property line and a distance of 383 feet was available to install two large poles. There are trees along most of this line with exception of 60 feet next to our house.

One of these poles was placed in this area and within 76 inches of our house.

This was unnecessary as 323 feet was available where these two poles could have been placed and would not be noticeable as the pole would have been screened behind trees.

The PG&E were within their legal rights but they could have consulted me to arrange placement of these poles so as not to be noticeable. They never consulted me and I sincerely feel they owe it to the public to help retain the natural beauty of Marin whenever possible.

I suggest to very property owner to be on a careful watch whenever the PG&E are installing lines adjacent to private property.

More Education On Civic Center

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Am submitting this letter to you for the voice of the people column. I have sent the original to the Architectural Advisory Committee of the City of Mill Valley:

Dear Committee Members:

Coming back to Marin County after six weeks work in Santa Barbara I am deeply disturbed and dismayed in the recent trend in southern and western Marin politics that now endangers our county civic center development. If it is obstructed or changed from its over-all unity of plan and fulfillment, I feel this loss of integrity at this level will carry over and threaten planning in the smaller segments of the county, causing a severe set-back of cherished values.

Earlier while Architect Mario Corbett was chairman of this committee, we enthusiastically committed ourselves to unanimous support of Frank Lloyd Wright's designs. We invited the citizens of Mill Valley to view these plans and hear the facts from Supervisor Vera Schultz as to the long range economic savings in shelter costs to the county government, this site and these plans give.

At the February groundbreaking ceremonies world famous Architect Stone of the Stanford Medical Center reaffirmed the rightness of Wright's designs to site and purpose and tied the latter to the importance to our democracy locally, nationally and internationally of this master work by our master American architect.

I write to urge on this committee the importance of continued educational and aesthetic leadership in protection of and for the community and county of this vital practical and symbolic project.

State Moving In Right Direction With Language, Science Meetings

SACARMENTO (CNS) — In education, advances are slow, and at times it is probable there would be no progress at all were it not for the fact that mediums of communication frequently point out fields in which progress is needed.

Educators, of course, cannot be entirely blamed for the slow progress. An innovation in teaching technique, if introduced on a general basis, has to be thoroughly studied, reviewed and tested to determine whether or not it's going to work.

THERE HAS BEEN something of a time lapse since the first man-made orbit started encircling the earth and the pick-up in scientific education. Now at least, the State Department of Education is moving toward strengthening science and mathematics in the schools.

The department has announced what it terms the first of six sell-out conferences on teaching science and foreign languages in elementary schools. The conferences will be held in widely separated parts of the state, and are aimed at improving the new and experimental classes in language and strengthening the already stepped up methods of science teaching in the lower grades.

THE DEPARTMENT says more than 400 teachers and and other educators will attend two-week conferences scheduled this month and into next in Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Luis Obispo, Monterey and Arcata. Further, the teachers are paying their own subsistence, which is an indication that they are attending the conferences for business purposes rather than for the usual summer relaxation.

The department points out that teaching of foreign languages in elementary schools has mushroomed from a few hundred students last year to more than 100,000 in 1960. Most classes are in the fourth grade concurrent with the study of California history, but others range from kindergarten to the eighth grade.

LANGUAGE CLASSES now range from a half hour to five hours a week in any of the nine grades; few carry the instruction beyond a single grade. Thus what language is learned, is soon forgotten, and will continue to be forgotten unless a four-year program is planned to carry younger students into high school language classes.

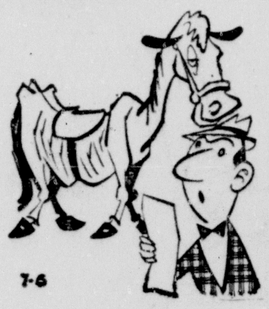
In many schools, the department says, use of television is helping to meet teacher shortage.

APPROXIMATELY 150 school districts teach language in elementary classes, the emphasis being on Spanish. Some of the classes are in French, German, Italian and Japanese.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Comic Joe E. Lewis confided to Scribe Herb Stein that he's writing a book tentatively called "Horses to Lose By." "Race horses," points out Professor Lewis, "are more than 2000 years oid—especially the ones I bet on. Do you know that Noah's Ark contained two race horses—and 300 jackasses to bet on them? The first famous horse player in history was King Richard of Britain, who called in his court handicapper and begged, 'A horse! a horse! My kingdom for a horse.' So the handicapper handed him a plug that came in ninth."



Venida Colwell saw a row of kids sitting in front of her neighbor's garage one afternoon, a look of happy expectancy on all their faces. "How come all you kids are sitting there so quietly?" inquired Mrs. Colwell. "We're waiting to listen to my father," explained one child "when he comes home and sees what Mom did to the righ front fender."

Clever Postcard Meeting Notice Turned Out The Cove Players

Tiburon Peninsula's own little theater group, the Cove Players, reached a new high, we feel, in their recent general meeting notice. It worked, too. More than 50 members, a near record number, showed up for the meeting, even with the summer vacation schedule.

The postcard notice authored by president Arny Schultz of Mill Valley reads:

Your wish, I know, is mine, to blow,
My friends, the town, the
magraine frown,
A beet's escape, to vegetate
Alone, a cave is what I crave.

But stop! The date, June 28,
My mind is shot, I quite forgot
The general meet, 112 Main Street.

Is it a crime to change my mind,
To shun the cave, the beet,
be brave,
Decry escape? Please don't be late,
I'm scared, oh groan, to be alone.

TIBURON FIRE Protection District commissioners have had their share of troubles during the past year to straighten out the affairs of the previous commission and have come in for some hard knocks from certain citizens.

So it is refreshing to hear of a campaign to raise money for purchase of a flag and pole to be placed atop the Tiburon Boulevard main fire station.

Mr. and Mrs. Wellman Topham of Hill Haven in Tiburon have sent a letter to all of the property owners associations served by the district requesting contributions to buy the items which come to a total of $129.50 for a 24-foot pole and a 4 x 6 ft. flag.

"We thing that donating a flag and pole would be an excellent way for those protected by the district to show their appreciation of the services provided by it and its volunteers," the letter reads. Volunteers will install and deliver the flag and pole.

Individuals wishing to donate should address their checks to Kelly J. Wheeler (commission secretary) "Fund for the Flag," 100 Jefferson Drive, Tiburon.

WITH THE RESIGNATION of Mrs. Ahleen Tresnon from the Reed Union School District board of trustees, rumors are rife as to the identity of the future replacement appointment. The appointment is made by the county superintendent of schools, Dr. Virgil Hollis, but it is expected that trustees will make a recommendation.

Persons interested should apply to any of the four trustees, Dick MacLaury, Dave Ring, Al Azevedo or Erwin Farley.

RUMOR HAS IT that Mrs. Margaret Azevedo will resign soon from the Marin County Planning Commission . . . not because newly-elected supervisor J. Walter Blair would replace her anyway, as soon as he takes office in January . . . but because she, husband Alfred J. Azevedo and children, are planning on going to Europe for a year.

This rumor gives rise to the question: will Mr. Azevedo also resign from the school board? His terms expires in 1962.

Rockefeller Doing Real Service To GOP By Showing Diversity

WASHRINGTON—Gov. Nelson Rockefeller is being unfairly, inaccurately, and unwisely criticized by numerous Republican leaders for "giving aid and comfort to the Democrats."

That's buncombe; he is doing no such thing.

He is helping the Republican cause by showing there is room for diversity in the party and that not all its leaders view every policy of the Eisenhower administration as just dandy.

BEAR IN MIND that the Republican presidential nominee has not yet been selected; therefore no Republican has any exclusive claim to be the single voice of Republican policy.

Bear in mind that the 1960 Republican platform has not been finally drafted, nor gone before the convention; therefore Rockefeller has every right and reason to try to shape the platform.

Bear in mind the Republican presidential nominee, who will almost certainly be Vice President Nixon, will have to win several million independent and Democrat voters to his side if he is going to have a chance of being elected.

BEAR THESE THINGS in mind and you will see, I think, that Rockefeller's independent line—his insistent view that there are answers to our national problems in part different from and beyond those always offered by the Administration—is a campaign asset to the Republican party and a help to Nixon where he will most need help this fall.

Let me put this more concretely.

Nixon, though he has had only limited opportunity to speak for himself in his role as Vice President, is pretty well established as a conservative Republican. That certainly is his public image. He may prove to be less conservative than some Republican Right-wingers would hope but, he shows no present sign of moving very far to Mr. Eisenhower's left.

I think that most voters will want Nixon to say exactly what he thinks and feels on the critical issues. They won't want him to appear more liberal than he is. But the voters will also want to feel that Nixon is not the prisoner of the Right Wing of the Republican party and that some forces, more liberal than Nixon, are active and strong in the Republican Party.

THIS IS EXACTLY the service which Rockefeller is performing. I think it is a boon to Nixon. It gives Nixon special maneuverability within his party by making him less dependent upon the conservative wing of the Republican party with which he is most identified in the public view. It gives the nation's independent and registered-Democratic voters — whom Nixon must court to win—an awareness that they have allies within the Republican party.

Both our parties are made up of divergent groups. This is not bad; this is good. The Democrats range from Hubert Humphrey to Harry Byrd; the Republicans from Barry Goldwater to Clifford Case and Jacob Javits.

Each party seeks, not ideological singleness of purpose, but a working national concensus. This is the reason why the two-party system works so well in such a vast and diverse nation.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Marin Still Falls Short Of Living Up To Potential In Retail Sales

Figures released by the Marin Industrial Development Foundation for 1959 have turned up the sad fact that Marin County is still falling far short of living up to its potential in retail sales.

A report on the five Bay Area counties of Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, San Francisco and San Mateo, of which Marin has 5.6 per cent of the population, reveals that our stores are getting only about 3.2 per cent of the total business.

Retail sales were broken down into five groups—apparel, general merchandise, specialty stores, household and household and home furnishings, and home appliances. The gap between potential and actual sales in each case indicates that Marin residents are shopping outside of the county for many of their needs.

Specialty stores showed the biggest deficiency — 54 per cent; household and home furnishings the smallest—31 per cent.

NEW QUARTERS for Allen Heating and Sheet Metal at 2082 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, give this firm more space which it doesn't have to share with Dorius Plumbing as it did in the previous location next door.

Owner James H. Allen who has had the business for three years says the additional elbow room has been badly needed for further expansion and parking of trucks. The firm does all types of sheet metal work, residential and commercial, for heating and ventilating.

Allen, a San Anselmo resident, was previously manager of the sheet metal department of Ernest Ongaro.

LONG TIME Marin resident Glen S. Roberts, now living with his family in Terra Linda, has recently become associated with the insurance agency of Fred A. Banducci, 1526 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

Roberts was previously connected with the firm of Miller and Ames, San Francisco and was employed for 11 years by the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Co. as auditor, special agent and surety bond underwriter. At one time he was business manager of the old Marin Journal.

A COMMON DENOMINATOR for three otherwise unrelated Marin business firms that were newly represented among commercial exhibitors at the Art and Garden Show this year is the correcting of faults in one of nature's most bountiful commodities — water.

Tom Mirabito of the U.S. Soft Water Service in San Rafael learned the benefits of soft water for washing from owning a laundromat in San Francisco.

Marin County water—particularly in the Novato area, he says, is harder than San Francisco water. Many housewives would be amazed to find how much easier it is to eliminate bathtub rings, streaks and curdy soap deposits in clothes by installing a water softener in the home.

Russell Hunt who owns the Advance Equipment and Supply Co. in San Rafael is not concerned with softening water but purifying it. He leases automatic chlorinating equipment to swimming pool owners and insures them against the formation of algae.

Robert Quinlan of the Anti-Rust Co. in Kentfield has the wettest job of all. His firm removes rust stains from swimming pools by using service men equipped with aqualungs and syringes with muriatic acid.

Credit Union Activity Shows First Growth Jump

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—Credit union activity in the United States spurted upward last year, marking the first increase in the growth rate of the organizations in six years, H. Vance Austin, managing director of the Credit Union National Assn., said today.

Increases in total outstanding loans, savings, and reserves in 1959 were the largest dollar gains ever recorded, although they did not surpass percentage gains marked up in previous years.

The largest dollar gains in 1959 were in credit union lending activities with a 621 million dollar gain in total outstanding loans.

At the end of 1959, outstanding credit union loans totaled 3.6 billion dollars and savings totaled 4.3 billion dollars during the year. Reserves were increased by 37.7 billion dollars to 235 million dollars, both an all-time high.

Work Starts On Crocker Bank Addition

Work began yesterday to add 4,000 square feet of working space at the Crocker-Anglo National Bank in San Rafael.

The $25,000 remodeling project is being done by Don Presco, San Rafael general contractor.

It is due for completion Aug. 1.

It will be the second enlargement of the San Rafael branch bank since it opened in December, 1958, at the Monticello Shopping Center at Third Street and Grand Avenue.

Santa Fe, N. M., was founded in 1610.

STEPS UP—Louis Perini Jr. of 4 Dunfires Terrace, San Rafael, has been named vice president for western operations of Perini Corp. of San Francisco.

Industrial Slowdown Expected This Month

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — July is starting with every sign of being the year's low point in industry.

Some think August will see a good recovery. Others say we'll have to wait until September for much of a gain.

The recreation and travel industries will boom this month and the suppliers of gasoline, tires, clothing, food and recreation equipment for hordes of vacationists will flourish.

But in many mills and factories output will be sharply cut—some because of vacation shutdowns of their own, but more because of a drop in incoming orders.

Steelmen fear that the ratio of output to capacity this month may dip into the 40s and average somewhere in the 50s.

The trade publication, Iron Age, says all hopes have faded for setting a record in production this year to top the 117 million tons of 1955. When 1960 started, most steel executives were confidently predicting a record this year of 125 to 130 million tons.

Mills must operate at an average of 70 per cent in the second half of the year if tonnage is to go to 114 million and Iron Age says that 115 million tons is the absolute best that most hope for now.

The poor showing in steel in July—with a mounting number of workers laid off—is due largely to a steep drop in new orders since early spring, while steel users cut back on their stocks.

Adding to July's slowness will be the annual vacations in many steel using industries.

Auto companies are beginning to cut off output of 1960 models and the changeover period will be staggered into early fall. Orders for auto steel are expected to pick up in August. But many other users, such as appliance makers, are holding up orders until a glut of products is sold.

Spooning It

SAN DIEGO (AP) — City Councilman Ross Tharp was supposed to present State Appeal Court Justice Lloyd Griffin with a souvenir key to the city at a dinner honoring Griffin. Tharp found he had forgotten to bring one of the keys. So, he presented Griffin with the nearetst thing at hand — a spoon.

Ludy Spent $848 During Campaign

George H. Ludy, Inverness market owner, spent $848 in his successful campaign to win the post of county supervisor for the fourth district in the June primary election.

In his campaign expense statement filed with County Clerk George S. Jones, Ludy lists $425 in contributions from five of his backers, and $423 which he put up himself. Ludy defeated incumbent Supervisor James A. Marshall.

Additions to the expense statement of Democratic Congressman Clement W. Miller show Miller spent a total of $12,852 during the primary campaign. He had no opposition.

Dedication Slated For Jet Plane

A Navy jet airplane, all dolled up to delight the kiddies, will go on public display Saturday morning at Albert Field in San Rafael.

Recreation Director Joseph Rodota announced that the jet will be carted from Wheeler's Marina on the San Rafael Canal about 8 a.m. Saturday and wheeled to the park with police escort. The jet plane will then be dedicated to the public at 10 a.m. ceremonies.

Members of the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce have been working for several months, taking out dangerous parts, sanding the exterior, and repainting. David Wheeler, member of the junior chamber, allowed the use of his marina facilities for work on the plane.

Other members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce who put in long hours of work include Perry Johnson, secretary; Don Leaf, past president; Dr. Richard Galbreath, president, and Ted Graupner.

As soon as the jet is put on display, a contest will open to name the jet, Rodota announced. The contest will run for about two weeks, and the winner will get a $25 savings bond donated by the Junior Chamber.

Anyone who wants to enter the contest should mail a card, addressed to the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce, Second and B Streets, San Rafael, or to the city recreation department. The entry card should have the suggested name for the jet, and the contestant's own name and address.

Novato Couple Thrown By Horse, Suffer Bruises

A Novato couple were thrown from a horse and knocked unconscious Sunday evening in the hills at the end of Sunset Parkway, Novato, sheriff's deputies reported.

Victims were David E. Colclough and his wife, Arlie B. Colclough of 1020 Leafwood Drive. Both were treated for bruises at Marin General Hospital. Mrs. Colclough was released this morning. She suffered a possible concussion, as well as numerous bruises. Colclough had a lacerated left elbow and abrasions.

Clarence E. Tucker of 1309 Denlyn Street called the sheriff shortly after 7 p.m. He said two riders on a horse had been thrown and were unconscious. Colclough was up and walking around when Deputy Gerald D. Fries arrived.

Old Swede's Church, built in 1698 in Wilmington, Del., is reputedly the oldest Protestant church still used as a place of worship in North America.

Today is Wednesday, July 6, the 188th day of the year, with 178 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1699, the notorious pirate, Captain William Kidd, was seized in Boston and deported to England.

In 1747, John Paul, who later became famous as John Paul Jones, was born in Scotland.

In 1854, the Republican Party had its formal beginning at a statewide convention in Jackson, Mich.

In 1885, bacteriologist Louis Pasteur inoculated the first human being, a boy who had been badly bitten by an infected dog.

In 1944, 168 persons were killed, 350 more injured in the most disastrous circus fire in history in Hartford, Conn.

A thought for today: Famed Naval officer John Paul Jones said, aboard the Bonhomme Richard . . . "I have not yet begun to fight."

THE PARENTS' CORNER

Physical Handicaps Often Lie Behind Difficulties In Reading

Too many bright kids fail in reading. They should succeed, but don't. Their friends look down on them. Their teachers struggle with them. Their parents believe they are stupid.

They need help in the worst way.

Why do they fail? There are many reasons. At least one-fourth of them have eyesight problems, but don't know it. They can't focus their eyes properly. They may see clearly for a few minutes, then have the letters blur. They may get headaches after a little reading. The eye tests our school nurses give do not uncover many common visual defects.

Non-readers need complete examinations by eye specialists.

Other types of physical defects handicap smaller numbers. Some have hearing losses and don't get their teachers' explanations. Some are undernourished, and they haven't the strength to concentrate. Some have glandular difficulties.

Probably the most important continuing cause of their failure is emotional. Bright non-readers learn to fail, right at the start. They get into the habit. They are afraid to try. They defend themselves by saying reading doesn't matter. They go around and around in a vicious circle.

Do you have a bright non-reader in your family? Then do two things for him this summer. Have complete physical exams given by qualified specialists. Remedy any defects you find. Then have a psychologist make a detailed study of his reading needs. Pass the information to his school in September. His teacher will be grateful. It will enable her to do a better job with him next year.

FOUR 'LITTLE WOMEN' OUT FOR AIR

Redwood Area Grows Faster Than State

California's Redwood Empire region is growing faster than California as a whole.

This is one of the trends indicated by preliminary 1960 census figures reported to Rep. Clement W. Miller (D. Corte Madera) by the Census Bureau.

According to these figures, the seven North Coast counties grew at a rate of 48½ per cent since the 1950 census, while the state grew at 46.7 per cent.

The seven North Coast counties, which comprise the First Congressional District, are Marin, Sonoma, Napa, Lake, Mendocino, Humboldt and Del Norte.

The preliminary census reports that 542,531 of California's 15,530,973 residents live in the North Coast region. Ten years ago the final census showed 365,281 in the same seven counties and 10,586,223 in the state.

Congressman Miller also noted that the Department of Commerce recently predicted that population of the nine San Francisco Bay Area counties—including Marin, Sonoma and Napa—will quadruple, to 14.4 million, in the next 60 years.

The preliminary census figures, as reported by Miller, show little Del Norte made the greatest gain of any county in the district during the decade just ended. The 1960 census gives Del Norte 17,401 residents, compared with 8,078 in 1950—a gain of 115.4 per cent.

Marin made the second fastest gain—69.9 per cent, from 85,619 in 1950 to 145,545 this year. Humboldt gained 50.6 per cent, from 69,241 to 104,308; Sonoma, 40.9 per cent, from 103,405 to 145,798; Napa, 40.2 per cent, from 46,603 to 65,343; Mendocino, 23.7 per cent, from 40,854 to 50,562, and Lake, 18.2 per cent, from 11,481 to 13,574. Del Norte's big gain pushed Lake County to the bottom of the list in the congressional district in total population.

Novato has made the greatest percentagewise gain of any city in the congressional district, according to Miller's figures.

Novato was incorporated only last January, but the congressman gives a figure of 3,496 as the 1950 population of what is now the City of Novato. This year's census gave Novato 17,686 people.

Ten years ago, Eureka was the only city in the congressional district with more than 20,000 population, having 23,058 residents. Now there are four: Santa Rosa, now in first place with 30,693 (up from 17,902 in 1950); Eureka, with 27,813; Napa, with 21,976 (up from 13,579), and San Rafael, with 20,293 (up from 13,848).

Hospital, Farm To Be Subject Of 'Sounding Board'

Four panelists will discuss the future of the Marin County Hospital and Farm on the KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" program at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Kitty Oppenheimer will be the moderator. Participating in the discussion will be E. H. Nordby, manager of Crystal Springs Rehabilitation Center, San Mateo; Dr. Rafael P. Dufficy, Marin County medical director; D. A. Jensen, Marin County administrator, and Lloyd de la Montanya, superintendent of the county hospital and farm.

Listeners may submit questions during tomorrow's broadcast. The program will be heard again on tape-recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Bees Killed Off So Honey Drips

MERIDEN, Conn. (AP) — Mrs. Antoinette H. Snow has a honey of a problem.

Nine years ago, bees settled in her attic. Last fall she had the attic sprayed because the bees were stinging workmen putting on a new roof.

The bees were killed. That left an awful lot of honey they normally would consume during the winter.

Now warm weather has loosened the excess honey, and it's dripping from the attic into Mrs. Snow's living room. She's all abuzz about it.

Service Station Plea Will Be Considered

A use permit application to build a service station on College Avenue, Kentfield, directly in front of A. E. Kent School, will be considered by the Marin County Planning Commission on Monday.

The application filed by Ethel Righetti, owner of the property, is item 17 on an agenda beginning at 9 a.m. The meeting will be held at the county office building, 1711 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

Tools, Wheels Stolen From Parked Cars

Car vandals broke into several parked vehicles during the holiday weekend and stole money, tools and wheels, sheriff's deputies reported.

Donald Brown, part owner of B and B Auto Wreckers at 310 Deer Island Lane, Novato, said he checked Monday morning and found a 1954 sedan resting on its hubs. All four wheels and tires had been stolen.

Jesse Howard Adkins of House 669, Marin City, said his tool box containing about $300 worth of tools was stolen from his 1952 sedan. He had parked it at Levi's auto repair near Gate 5, Sausalito, between Sunday evening and Monday noon. A side window had been smashed to open the door.

Robert E. Tumelty of San Francisco parked his car off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Inverness Yacht Club for about 45 minutes Monday afternoon. When he got back a wallet was gone. The wallet and papers belonged to Lois Villa. Also gone was a money clip with $25 in cash. The thieves pried the left wing window to open the door.

Goldfine's secretary, Miss Mildred Paperman, 42, was sent to the East Cambridge, Mass., jail for 10 days on a similar conviction.

GWEN CURATILO
Sings at Dominican

Wooden water pipes about 120 years old, and still serviceable, were recently dug up in downtown Chicago.

Dominican To Present Soprano Gwen Curatilo

Soprano Gwen Curatilo of San Rafael will sing in the second of a series of recitals at the Dominican College opera workshop Friday at 10:30 a.m.

Mrs. Curatilo is Bay Area regional winner of the San Francisco opera debut auditions. Baritone Alan Cathcart will join her in duets from "Rigoletto" and she also will sing "Salce, Sale" and "Ave Maria" from Verdi's "Otello."

Richard Frock, bass-baritone of the San Francisco Operatic Quarter, will be heard in selections from Rossini and Verdi.

Opera Workshop sessions will be held Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays through Aug. 2. Professional singers of the Bay Area perform at the Friday sessions.

He Thought He Saw A Burglar; It Was

LA JOLLA (AP)—One night Edward Dacey, architectural draftsman, thought he dreamed that he saw someone sitting on his bedroom dresser.

It wasn't a dream he learned a few days later when a burglar took police around to six La Jolla homes he had entered. One of them was Dacey's. He had sat on the bureau while he smoked a cigarette.

TOURIST ATTRACTION — Demonstrations like this one by snake-dancing Zengakurens are drawing tourists to Japanese Parliament. Americans, as well as others, are asking tourist agencies to be taken to see the demonstrators. (AP Wirephoto)

ANTI-U.S. MOBS

'Serpentine' Students Attracting Tourists

By CHARLES R. SMITH

TOKYO (UPI) — Demonstrations by snake-dancing students have become almost as big a tourist attraction in Tokyo as cherry blossoms, the gaudy Ginza Street and hot baths.

"These days all the tourists first demand a guided tour in the Parliament area to see the 'famous' snake-dancing Zengaruken (students federation)," an official in the foreign tourist section of the Japan travel bureau said.

"When an American or almost any foreign tourist steps into our office now the first thing he says is, 'Take me to the snake-dance,'" the official said. "We must say Zengaruken has become one of the biggest tourist attractions today and we must now add 'Zengaruken' to the list of suchc attractions as Mt. Fuji, geisha girls and classical Japanese drama."

The official said the travel bureau first thought there would be incidents if foreign tourists, especially Americans, were taken to watch "anti-American" demonstrations.

"But soon we found out the 'anti-American' demonstrators were usually very friendly to them," he said.

A "demo tour" to the Diet area and other government buildings where the students are likely to demonstrate costs 2,000 yen ($5.55).

"Many of our customers demand good postcards of Zengaruken," the official said, "and when we tell them we have none they are disappointed.

"We found out that to the American tourists the Zengaruken demonstrations often were like good modern Samuria movies," the official added.

One elderly American woman tourist, watching a student demonstration, said, "The students seem to be having so much fun. I would love to be in a mass conga dance in front of the capitol building in Washington," according to the official.

During one of the most recent demonstrations a middle-aged American tourist approached a Japanese-speaking news correspondent and asked poiltely: "Would you please ask one of the students if he would sell me one of the red flags? I would like to buy one for a souvenir."

Judge Asserts Juvenile Hall 'Black Mark'

A charge that the juvenile hall at Lucas Valley is a "black mark on Marin County" was made yesterday by Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brusatori.

The judge made a plea to the county board of supervisors that "neglected children of neglectful parents" be segregated from "juveniles who have transgressed a little further."

Throwing them together in the overcrowded juvenile hall is "the part that bothers me, the part that bothers my colleagues on the bench," Judge Brusatori declared.

SUPPORTS DR. ALBRECHT

He backed up the criticisms of sanitary conditions at juvenile hall made last week by Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

County Administrator D. A. Jensen reported steps have been taken to correct some of the deficiencies pointed out by Dr. Albrecht. The board of supervisors has authorized bids for vents and replacing broken windows; it has increased housekeeping supplies, clothing and bedding, and prices are being obtained on a mechanical dishwasher.

Supervisor William A. Fusselman complained that "people working out there should have reported to the board" about their needs. He said he understood mechanical defects were being corrected.

OTHER PROBLEMS

Problems connected with finding other places for neglected children to be placed were raised by G. W. Thierbach, a director of the Marin Municipal Water District.

Thierbach said the water district directors were not adverse to the county building a summer work camp for boys on their watershed lands "but we would have to have some say where the camp is located."

A state allocation of $60,000 toward such a camp is being held over from last year in the current year's budget. No construction could begin until July, 1961, Jensen said. The county is required to match state funds for its construction.

Plans to enlarge the present juvenile hall are impaled on the question of how to finance the expansion.

NOT FAVORED

A proposal to borrow $300,000 from the Veterans Memorial Auditorium cash fund and repay it with interest in three years has not met with favor in Marin's veterans groups, reported Thomas W. Peryam, retired county agricultural commissioner and a member of the San Anselmo American Legion Post.

The proposal was explained to a recent joint meeting of American Legion members, Veterans of Foreign Wars and World War I veterans, Peryam said. "Their impression was that you were going to take the money and not replace it," he said.

Roy A. Ibach, chairman of the county probation committee, said the committee would report to the board of supervisors after its next meeting, scheduled for July 13 at 8:30 a.m.

Supervisors File Crime Group Report

Four crime prevention recommendations, including support of a new juvenile bureau for the sheriff's office, were put before the Marin County Board of Supervisors by the Marin Council of Community Services yesterday.

The supervisors filed a letter from Mrs. Adele S. Alpers, president, without action.

Mrs. Alpers wrote that the council had received a report by Rex Silvernale, chairman of the 37-member Council for Prevention of Crime and Delinquency, telling of nine months of work by his group.

She said the group had reported that early detection of child welfare problems is basic to a sound prevention program. This led to the recommendations.

Additional to backing the idea of a juvenile bureau already endorsed in preliminary budget discussions by the county administrator and the sheriff, the council recommended support of the Marin County Mental Health Advisory Board's proposal for mental health services.

The council felt that there should be orientation sessions for new teachers to inform them about available health and welfare sources of the county, and in addition to the teacher sessions that "the clergy, peace officers, attorneys and other interested professionals be 'targets'" for such information.

All the foregoing, the council felt, would be actions tending to strengthen prevention of crime and delinquency within the county.

ICE BUYER GETS ARM, RESCUES MAN

BROOKVILLE, Ind. (UPI)— A would-be customer walked up to an ice vending machine and dropped in his money.

The ice door opened—and out came an arm.

It was attached to Alvin Corley, 48, Brookville. He had been filling the machine with ice, the door slammed shut and none heard him call.

The customer released Corley, shivering from 40 minutes confinement, and then got his ice.

Youth Treated For Eye Injury

Michael Geister, 18, of 5 Pigeon Hollow Road, San Rafael, was taken to San Rafael General Hospital with a piece of steel lodged in his left eye Monday afternoon.

San Rafael Police Officer John Rosentangle, who took the youth for treatment, said Geister was released from the hospital, apparently without serious injury.

The youth said he was sharpening a chisel on an electric grinder at Western Boat Shop, 101 Third Street, when the piece of metal flew into his eye.

New Instructor Finds Wallet Gone

John Tassone, newly hired instructor at Sir Francis Drake High School, who will teach English next term, got a rude initiation at the high school gymnasium during the weekend.

Tassone and his 4-year-old son went swimming, leaving their clothes in the locker Saturday afternoon. Tassone emerged 45 minutes later to find that someone had gone through his trousers and stolen his wallet.

Tassone said there was only about a dollar in cash in the wallet but he would like to have his driver's license, credit cards and other valuable papers returned to him. He lives at 211 Central Avenue, Woodacre. He and his family just moved to Woodacre from Grass Valley. He is now teaching summer school at Redwood High School.

ON A SHOESTRING

College Pair Starts Breeding Of Sheep

FRESNO (AP)—It took less than a wool shoe string to get two college students started in a sheep breeding operation near Fresno.

All Bill Lefty and Phil Kelly needed to launch their growing business was a sudden impulse while they were in Tucson, Ariz., last summer. It was there they bought 23 bred Hampshire ewes.

They now have 90 head of sheep on 10 rented acres east of Fresno and a small ranch near Cupertino.

They hope to have a profitable ram breeding operation within a year. Top Hampshire rams have sold for as much as $200.

After they bought the ewes they hurried back to Fresno to rent land. Nobody would loan them money to get the business out of the woods.

They used their meager savings and cash from after-school and summer jobs to finance their budding enterprise. They received much free advice as well as discarded equipment from neighboring ranchers.

Kelly and Lefty went to work building pens, feeders, fences and other fixtures. Lefty recruited several Fresno State College classmates to help build a lambing and show barn out of an old army tent.

They recently bought 36 choice ewes from one of California's top sheep ranches to bolster their operation.

"We may have gone out on a financial limb," Lefty said, "but we are looking for quality. We plan to give sheepmen the type of rams they want."

Kelly, a Stanford basketball player, maintains a four-acre ranch at Cupertino. He keeps 15 head of show stock there and cares for them when he isn't studying history or playing basketball.

To bolster their capital they work at other jobs during the summer, Lefty at a machinery plant and Kelly at a Clovis packing house.

They will realize their first income in about a year, but their enthusiasm is not dampened.

"We want to be on the ground floor when the farmers start looking for quality flock sires," Lefty said. "We'll know if we have made it when our first pen of yearling rams is ready for consignment next year."
